Asks Delay In 'Phone Walkout

President Sent Telegram to Bell Company And Its Union Workers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—(P)—President Truman today asked for a 60-day truce in the nation-wide telephone strike scheduled for Friday.

The president made his request in a telegram to Bell System companies and all unions of the CIO communications workers involved in the threatened walkout of 100,000 workers.

He asked that the parties, during the 60-day delay, "earnestly seek to resolve the current disputes through collective bargaining."

Mr. Truman said Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching has told him the Friday headline affords too little time "to give reasonable promise of settlement."

"I need hardly to describe or emphasize the great damage to the public interest and welfare which would result if these disputes are not settled by agreement," the president said. He added:

"I feel very strongly that employers engaged in the operation of public utilities and unions representing their workers have a special and extraordinary responsibility to settle their differences by agreement and without resort to economic action which may deprive the public of economic benefits of essential services."

Strike Set For Friday
This obligation means, Mr. Truman went on, that the telephone companies and the unions should "canvass and weigh most thoroughly" all demands and counter-offers and exhaust all possibilities for a peaceful settlement before striking.

This strike is set to start at 6:00 a. m. local time Friday. Originally it had been set for Feb. 8, but was postponed by the union at Ching's request.

Negotiations for a settlement bogged down and Joseph A. Beirne, president of the union, told an audience in Nashville last night that a walkout seems inevitable.

Mr. Truman said that in many of the separate, company-wide negotiations "there has clearly been insufficient time" for full consideration of the positions of both sides on the issues of wages and other matters. This consideration, Mr. Truman said, "cannot be satisfactorily discharged by them in the face of the impending Feb. 24 deadline."

Requesting Work to Continue
"Accordingly, I am requesting the parties to continue work and operations, without any interruption of telephone communications in the nation, under the wages, terms and conditions now in effect, for a period of 60 days from February 24, 1950. . . .

Compliance with this request by the parties will demonstrate a proper regard for the public interest and welfare."

He told both sides he "would earnestly appreciate your advising me of your acceptance."

The telegram went to 25 national and local officers of the union including President Joseph A. Beirne.

Copies went to 19 officers of companies and divisions associated with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Ching made his report last night to the White House on the stalemate in negotiations.

New Hormone Fails to Work

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 22.—(P)—Medical science's hopes for a successful cure for leukemia were dimmed with the death of Kenneth Robison, 27, here yesterday.

The war veteran and father of a three-year-old daughter died 11 days after he had been dismissed from the hospital with hopes that a new hormone would provide recovery from the deadly disease.

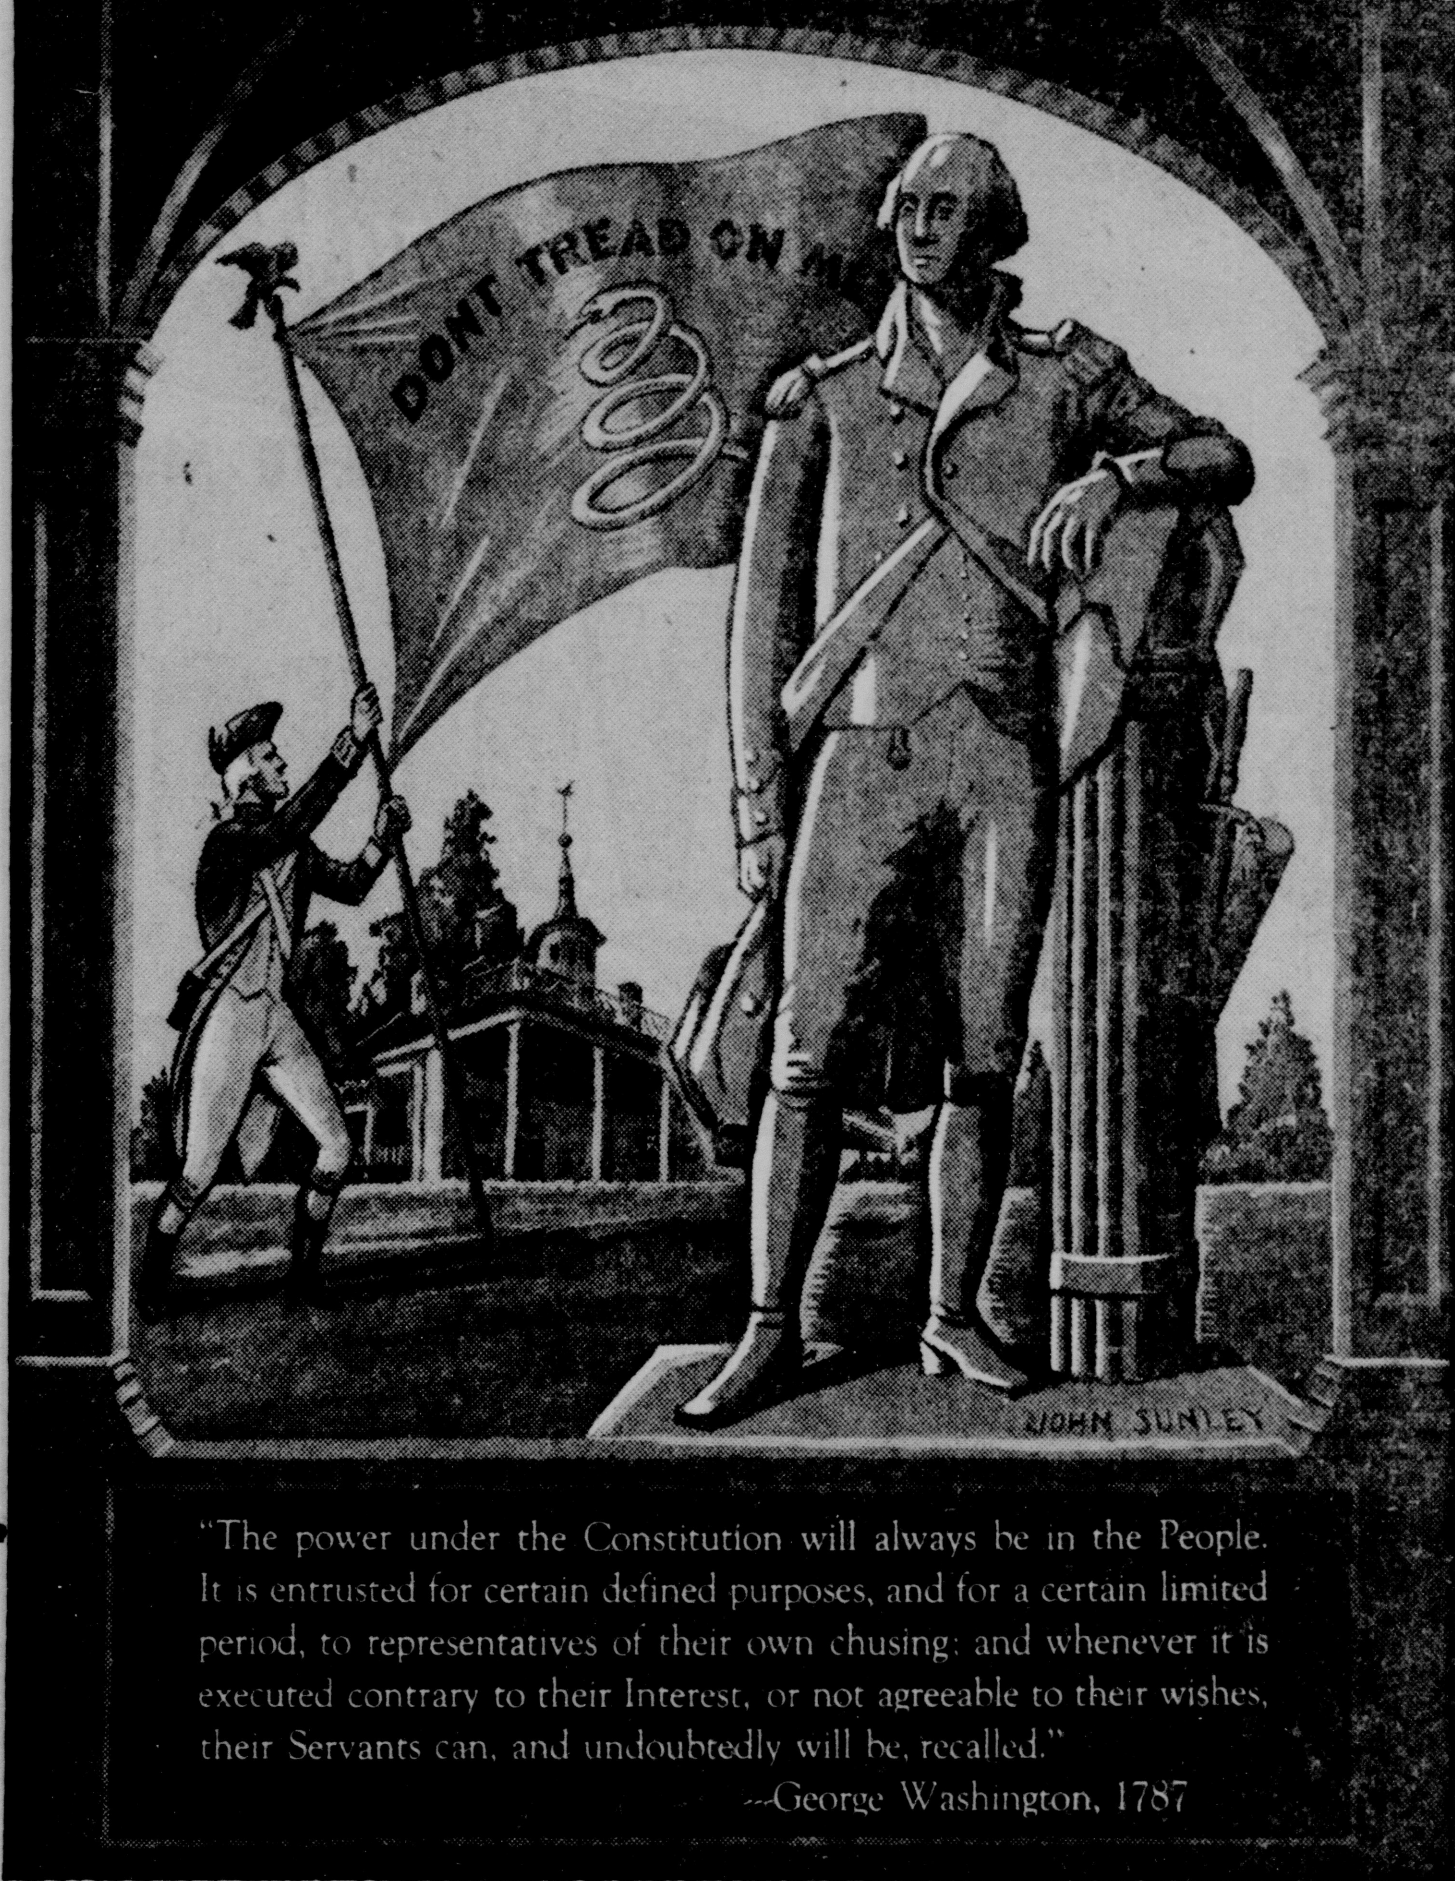

Cortisone or Aeth was administered to Robison at great expense. He showed rapid improvement and upon leaving the hospital stopped by the chapel to "thank God for his recovery."

His physician said the new medicine is not the answer yet—that too many people have been led to believe that the hormone is a cure for the blood disease.

"I've collaborated with New York doctors on this case and after this experience we are disappointed inasmuch as any cure is concerned," he said.

"All we can hope for is to establish a link in a chain to help these poor people."

Robison's widow, Fay Jean, also survives.

"The power under the Constitution will always be in the People. It is entrusted for certain defined purposes, and for a certain limited period, to representatives of their own choosing; and whenever it is executed contrary to their interest, or not agreeable to their wishes, their Servants can, and undoubtedly will be, recalled."

Move to Give Truman Power To Seize Mines

Shortage in New York Getting Down To Desperate State

By Sterling F. Green

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—(P)—A move for rush legislation to give President Truman power to seize the struck coal mines developed today in Congress.

Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich.) of the House labor committee told reporters he understood Rep. Bailey (D-WVa.) was preparing a bill along that line. He said the labor committee would give it prompt hearings and added:

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 22.—(P)—New York's legislature today unanimously voted new emergency powers for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to seize private coal stocks and to clamp price controls on the state's fast-fading supplies.

The GOP-controlled legislature acted after receiving a special message from Dewey, who last night accused President Truman of "mis-handling the coal situation."

Dewey, who was in New York City, planned to return to Albany late this afternoon to sign the measure.

Dewey assured the lawmakers in his message that coal supplies of private home owners would not be seized "except under the most unusual circumstances."

"We will have to do a rush job because of the emergency," Lesinski said that if Bailey did not introduce a seizure bill he believed there were other legislators who would.

"If Bailey doesn't, I will," he told a reporter.

Bailey told a reporter he is considering such a bill, but not today.

He declined to say whether he had conferred with President Truman concerning such legislation.

Would Declare Emergency
It is understood the proposed bill would declare an emergency, authorize the president to take over the mines, and designate an agency to administer them.

The bill would declare a continuation of the "emergency" until such time as the president says (Please Turn To Page 4, Col. 6)

Fire Destroys $400,000 Machine

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 22.—P—Fire virtually destroyed the $400,000 cyclotron in Palmer physical laboratory at Princeton university early today.

Dr. Milton White, professor of physics and director of a Navy research project using the 18,000-volt machine, said only its magnets could be saved.

The machine, built in 1935, was one of the first atom smashing devices constructed in the United States.

Receptacles For Trash

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, it was decided to purchase trash receptacles for the business district of the city and a special committee was appointed to take charge of the project. The committee is composed of Abe Silverman, chairman, A. W. Haller and Harold Seaberg.

The trash receptacles, which are of a dark green color, and are metal, will be financed by advertising on the sides. Metal slides which slip into the sides of the receptacles will have neat, attractive ads painted on them. Inside the receptacles are sacks into which the trash falls when pushed through the opening at the top, and the sacks will be emptied each day.

Although this will take care of discarded papers and other items which might otherwise be thrown on the sidewalks and streets, there is still the problem of keeping the streets clean from having trash swept from a few of the business houses into the street, after the street sweeper has gone by.

One of the new receptacles is now on display on the court house lawn.

Today is Ash Wednesday, Lent Begins

Today is Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, so called from the custom of the western churches of sprinkling ashes that day on the heads of penitents then admitted to penance. In the Roman Catholic churches the ashes are now placed on the heads of all clergy and people present.

Ash Wednesday services were held this morning in the Catholic churches of Sedalia.

Morning services were also held at the Calvary Episcopal church.

The first of the Lenten services which will be held each Wednesday night throughout Lent, will be held tonight at the various other Protestant churches throughout the city with five churches, the Broadway Presbyterian, First Christian, Fifth Street Methodist and East Broadway Christian church uniting in a service at the Broadway Presbyterian church.

The observing of the days of fasting coming in the spring of the year became linked with the word "lent" which means "spring" and thus became known as Lent. In the Latin church, there was originally only 36 days, but in the Fifth century four days were added because of the 40 days of fasting of Christ. During this period there are special services emphasizing the deepening of our religious life, special sacrifices and offerings. The Lenten season ends with Easter Sunday.

State Offices Closed

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 22.—P—Most state offices were closed today for Washington's birthday, a legal holiday.

Brotherhood Talk Given to Lion Members

'Americans All' Film From March Of Time Shown

Today an appropriate program for Washington's birthday and Brotherhood Week was given before the Sedalia Lions club at Hotel Bothwell, with Dr. Edwin E. Epstein, giving the principal talk and showing a sound-motion picture "Americans All." President A. W. Haller, presided over the meeting which had the largest attendance the club has had in several months.

"What I have to say is from my heart," Dr. Epstein said in beginning his brief introductory talk prior to showing of the motion picture. Continuing he said: "Today is Washington's birthday, as you all know. In answer to a letter congratulating him on his inauguration as our first president, from the Jewish congregation of Newport, Rhode Island, Washington answered:—America is a land where intolerance should find no home, nor no sanction."

Some Met the Mayflower

"This country was settled and prospered under successive waves of religious and political refugees, D.P.'s of a prior generation. All of us here are either immigrants or descendants of immigrants, if our grandparents couldn't get berths on the Mayflower, they took a later ship. And possibly there are some in this room whose ancestors met the Mayflower as did Will Rogers."

"Lions International, and this club are in respective ways exponents of Brotherhood. In this room we have seated together men of different national and religious background, men who try in some small way to be of service to others in this community. If under privileged school children need shoes, if Sedalia children need a Christmas or Halloween the Lions are there, and there is no quota system as to race or creed."

Modern George Washington Doesn't Mind Telling a Fib

CALDWELL, N. J., Feb. 22.—(P)—George Washington says he doesn't mind telling a fib now and then if it will help him avoid his mother's hairbrush.

That's George Washington, Jr. of course—the son of Martha and George Washington, Sr.

Today is not his birthday. And he'd rather you called him "Skeets."

Ten-year-old George's home is in the heart of territory once trod by his illustrious namesake during the Revolutionary War.

George admits he's getting a bit tired of jokes who ask him if his hatchet is sharp and if the cherry tree is ready for chopping every

Hope Break With Bulgaria Is Effective

In Easing Situation For Americans in Other Red Countries

By The Associated Press

There was speculation today whether the United States would extend its toughened diplomatic policy to other Soviet satellite countries following its open break with Bulgaria.

In Washington State Department officials hoped yesterday's action in severing relations with Bulgaria would serve as an effective warning to other iron curtain countries to toe the diplomatic line—or else.

Those who speculated that closing the door with Bulgaria might turn into a chain reaction, picked Hungary as the next possibility. Within a few hours after the United States announced its break with Bulgaria, the State Department attacked Hungary's handling of the trial which sent American businessman Robert A. Vogler to jail on charges of spying and sabotage.

There was no firm indication, however, that the United States has any contemplation of giving the diplomatic heave-ho to Hungary or any of the other Soviet satellite states.

Told Tragic Tale

The State Department did disclose much of the tragic tale of police terror, torture and death that lay behind the break with Bulgaria. It said last summer the Bulgarian police seized three Bulgarian employees of the U. S. Legation in Sofia and "permitted the torture and killing" of these men. The translator, a native Bulgarian later was seized by police and tortured into making false confessions of sabotage and spying which implicated personal friends and members of the legation, the department charged.

The legation was able to save this man, Michael Shipkov, from the police until recently. Yesterday, the State Department said, word came that he had been seized by Bulgarian authorities in another of "the long chain of tragedies which have overwhelmed decent, freedom loving Bulgarians."

Hoffman Asks Assistance

In Washington Marshall Plan Administrator Paul Hoffman asked for monetary assistance to help western Europe sell at least one billion dollars worth of goods in the American market next year. He believes greater two-way trade between Europe and America will help make for world prosperity. He argued the small corner of the American market being sought would not affect adversely the American economy.

To Appeal For Husband

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—(P)—Mrs. Robert A. Vogler said today, in a broadcast from Vienna, that she plans a direct appeal to Hungarian Prime Minister Matyas Rakosi for the freedom of her American husband.

Vogler, an assistant vice-president of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp., was convicted in Budapest yesterday of spying and sabotage. He was sentenced to 15 years in prison.

His blond Belgian wife reiterated her belief that Vogler's confession was forced.

Kansas City to Vote on Annexation

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 22.—(P)—It's Kansas City's job to conduct a special referendum election April 4 in the disputed Clay county area the city wants to annex.

That is the date when voters will decide whether to approve of turn down Gov. Forrest Smith's four cent gasoline tax law.

Attorney General J. E. Taylor ruled yesterday the city must conduct the election in an 18-square-mile Clay county area. He said that must be done even though the legality of the annexation Jan. 1 is still before the state supreme court for decision.

Residents of the area have attacked annexation procedure as illegal.

Out of town officials attended the meeting were Sidney Haner, president of the Marshall club, who brought with him a large delegation from Marshall. Other guests in addition to the speaker were, Harvey Burris, Lt. Governor of 10th District Optimists International, Taylor Harvey, president of the North Kansas City, Optimist Club, Bob Nelson president of the Kansas City, Optimist Club, Dewey Williams of the Kansas City Club and Harry Seeger, formerly of Sedalia and now newly elected member of the Kansas City Optimist Club.

Geo. Washington's Birthday is Sales Day in Washington, D.C.

By Arthur Edson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—(P)—This is G. Washington's birthday and the nation's capital isn't forgetting it.

I am not referring to Washington's farewell address, which will be read both in the House and the Senate. I am referring to the ordinary citizen and merchant of this community who picks Washington's birthday to go noisily nuts.

For this is sales day here, and, like so many other things that happen in Washington, it may be that they're overdoing it.

Look at some of the bargains that were offered:

A television set for 99 cents. . . typewriters (five of them) at 99 cents apiece. . . a silver fox coat for $5. . . phonograph records for a nickel. . . shoestrings for a penny. . . a console radio, $1.95. . . smaller radios, 83 cents. . . It doesn't pay to have the big head. One merchant put on sale two hats, the 6 3/4ths went for 98 cents, the 7 1/4 brought $1.96.

The ad writers kicked the George Washington legends around unmercifully.

"We use his hatchet to chop prices on his birthday," cried one. "We're throwing away money," yelled another, getting the point over by showing a picture of George tossing a dollar across the river.

"I cannot tell a lie," said a third. "This is our greatest sale!"

Just why Washington merchants use this day for a sales binge isn't entirely clear. James Hardy, an old hand in the merchandising business, has made this guess:

Since this a federal holiday, most Washingtonians have the day off. Some years ago a few merchants got the idea that this would be a good time to get at them.

Now they're all at it apparently. Yesterday's Evening Star was 108 pages fat.

Boyle Will Cast His Vote For Allison

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 22.—(P)—William M. Boyle, Jr., national Democratic chairman, said last night Emery W. Allison of Rolla would get his vote for the party nomination for United States senator.

President Truman previously expressed a preference for Allison.

"Certainly," Boyle said on a visit to his home town, "the President is convinced that Senator Allison is the best material for the next United States Senator from Missouri."

"I agree."

Boyle will address Kansas Democrats today in Topeka.

Talk on Boys Guidance to Optimist Club

Jim Whitsett Gave It at Dinner On Tuesday Night

The Sedalia Optimists club held a dinner meeting in the ambassador room of the Bothwell hotel Tuesday night with Optimist president, Frank Mehl presiding.

After the dinner and the introduction of guests, the principal speaker was Jim Whitsett, charter member of the Kansas City Optimist club. Mr. Whitsett gave a short but very interesting talk on the importance of guiding the thinking of the boys Optimists are working with. It is necessary, said the speaker that self reliance be taught, and that the boys understand that they will soon be going out into a competitive world, and that they will not be cared for from the cradle to the grave.

The thinking that the government can and will do everything for the individual, and that the individual has to do nothing in return, destroys self reliance and individual initiative. This and items for the consideration of the audience was brought to the attention of the Optimists and their guests.

Area Meeting to Sedalia

It was also announced that the "Area Board Meeting" for the 10th District Optimists clubs will be held in Sedalia, on March 21st.

Further attention was called to the members and guests that the Opti Mrs. are sponsoring the Pettis Players production, "The Man Who Came to Dinner." Michael Bogutski, Vice-President of the Pettis Players was introduced to the Members and guests, and he in turn thanked the club for the support they had given the Pettis Players.

Carl Ballinger reported that the Club would sponsor a Basketball tournament which will begin on Saturday, and competing teams will consist of member teams of the Optimist Basketball League. Winner of the tournament will receive a trophy and an all star team will be selected from among the players in the tournament. Mr. Ballinger also announced that a Basketball League will be sponsored this summer. Frank Mehl also called for a report from J. W. Reed, Boys Work chairman, who reported on progress made by the club in boy's work in Sedalia.

Out of town officials attended the meeting were Sidney Haner, president of the Marshall club, who brought with him a large delegation from Marshall. Other guests in addition to the speaker were, Harvey Burris, Lt. Governor of 10th District Optimists International, Taylor Harvey, president of the North Kansas City, Optimist Club, Bob Nelson president of the Kansas City, Optimist Club, Dewey Williams of the Kansas City Club and Harry Seeger, formerly of Sedalia and now newly elected member of the Kansas City Optimist Club.

A. L. Bohling Named Road Commissioner

Succeeds U. S. Eye On Twelve Mile Road Commission

Atwell L. Bohling, 1501 South Kentucky avenue, was elected to the Twelve Mile Road District, commission, succeeding U. S. Eye, rural route 2, at an election by a joint meeting of the Pettis County Court and the Sedalia City Council held this morning at the court house. No other name was presented at the meeting, nor was that of Mr. Eye placed before the group.

Mr. Bohling was a former member of the Twelve Mile Road District and was succeeded as a commissioner last year by Ernest Thompson, 403 South Park avenue, Mr. Bohling is a Democrat, as is Mr. Eye.

Besides Thompson, the other member of the commission is Charles Van Dyne of rural route 4.

A. L. Bohling

In attendance today were Presiding Judge J. V. Kesterson, Judge of the Western District

Edw. Callis, Judge of the Eastern District W. L. Marlin, Mayor Julian H. Bagby, Councilmen Virgil Corson, Pete Menefee, Walter Smethers, Emery Ellsworth and Earl Lashley.

Judge Kesterson Presides

Judge Kesterson opened the meeting and presided. He announced the purpose of the meeting and after reading the law on the selection of commissioners for districts such as the Twelve Mile District called for nominations for a commissioner.

Councilman Corson then placed in nomination, the name of Mr. Bohling, which was seconded by Councilman Ellsworth. Judge Kesterson asked if there were any other nominations and when no one spoke up, asked for a motion for nominations to cease.

Corson then moved the nominations cease and this was seconded by Councilman Smethers. Corson then moved Bohling be elected by acclamation and this was seconded by Councilman Menefee.

Judge Kesterson called for the vote and it carried, there being no opposition.

Elevator Dangerous; Back to Trapeze

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22.—(P)—Running an elevator, says Bobbette Yvonne la Velle, is too perilous. So she is going back to the high-flying trapeze work she used to do.

She's returning to the Big Top this summer. In preparation, she yesterday divorced Joseph Carvalho, a singer, charging him with cruelty.

The occupational hazards of piloting an elevator she listed as "getting pushed around, elbowed, stuck by umbrellas and even knocked down."

Control of Weapons Important

Truman Makes What He Calls 'Straight From Shoulder' Foreign Policy Talk

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Feb. 22.—(P)—President Truman declared today that any system of atomic weapons control without the international inspection—which Russia has rejected—would be a "sham agreement."

"Anything less would increase, not decrease, the dangers of the use of atomic energy for destructive purposes," he said. "We shall continue to examine every avenue, every possibility of reaching real agreement for effective control."

In what he called a "straight from the shoulder" foreign policy talk, Mr. Truman spoke at the unveiling of a statue to the first president at the George Washington National Masonic memorial. Mr. Truman is a 33rd Degree Mason and a former master of the Missouri lodge.

Denounces Threat of Force

As he has often before, the president denounced "communism's threat of force" as a challenge to the free world and said:

"In many parts of the world, men are searching for a better social order. They demand a way of life that will provide greater freedom and more widespread opportunity. x x x

"These ideals are under deadly attack from those who would destroy them. The most aggressive of these enemies today is Communism."

"Communism seeks to induce men to surrender their freedom by false promises of a better life but the great danger of Communism does not lie in its false promises. It lies in the fact that it is an instrument of an armed imperialism which seeks to extend its influence by force."

Refers To Baruch Plan

When he turned to discussion of atomic weapons, the president reiterated his support of the Baruch control plan involving international inspection of atomic plants but declared "The stakes are too large to let us, or any nation, stand on pride of authorship."

"We asked only for a plan that provides an effective, workable system—anything less would be a sham agreement" he said.

With the conflict of the isms in Europe largely settled down to a holding operation, the weight of strife is shifting to the Far Eastern theater of our two-front war.

In the long run the outcome of the fight between Communism and Democracy may depend largely on what happens in that vast Asiatic area which houses something more than half the population of the world.

The big question of the moment is what aid the nations of southeast Asia are likely to get from the west to enable them to stand up against the great Communist offensive which already has overrun China militarily. When we talk of western aid we of course have Uncle Sam in mind. Most of the load is on his shoulders.

Recommendations for American aid, made by the recent conference of U. S. diplomats in Bangkok, are still under consideration in Washington. The Bangkok decisions provided that the U. S. A. give arms and economic aid to southeast Asia nations if their people show a will to fight the Red threat to their independence.

However, that referred to material aid. No American troops would be sent.

In short, the Bangkok conference would bolster southeast Asia somewhat after the fashion of the successful Marshall plan in Europe. The state department already has funds and military supplies upon which it could draw for this purpose.

The conference came to the conclusion that the Chinese Communists weren't likely to invade hotly disputed Indochina but instead would supply the Red rebels in Indochina with military equipment. The Communist leader, Ho Chi-Minh, is reported to have plenty of men and so needs no soldiers from China.

One of the most important points to come out of the Bangkok conference is the decision that the position of the South Korean republic is serious. Northern Korea is under Russian domination and has been trying to engineer a Communist revolution in southern Korea.

Should southern Korea go Communist it would create a grave threat to Japan, which is America's chief base in the Orient. In this connection it should not be forgotten that Russia's control of Korea was one of the chief causes of the Russo-Japanese war of 1904-5. Why? Because Nippon regarded the Korean peninsula as "a dagger pointed at her heart."

In short, Korea is of great strategic importance.

The thirty year treaty signed recently between Red China and Russia would seem to give Communism a powerful persuader to hold over the small nations of southeast Asia. These little countries are fearful that they will be swallowed by the Chinese dragon.

Among those small states which are worried and with good reason, are Tibet, the tiny neighboring kingdom of Nepal, Burma, Indochina and southern Korea. As in the case of Indochina, their danger doesn't necessarily rest in Communist military invasion, but in Red revolutions within their own borders, backed by Communist aid from China and Russia.

So the western democracies have a tough hurdle to jump in the Chinese Communist military success, coupled with that thirty year treaty which ostensibly grants sweeping concessions to the Chinese. Many observers are wondering whether western aid is coming too late to save the day.

Hal Boyle COLUMN

NEW YORK, Feb. 22—(AP)—If "the Father of His Country" returned to America today on his 218th birthday, how would he find he stood in the hearts of his countrymen?

George Washington would be pleased to learn that to many he is still first in American hearts despite the tarnish of the years. But the big, rawboned planter-general-president might get a wry chuckle or two out of the tricks time has played with his reputation since the days when the nation's motto was, "Let George Do It."

To get a cross-section of present-day opinion, polled at a gallop, I asked a number of people of different occupations and ages:

1. What does George Washington mean to you?

2. What one word sums him up best?

3. How do you rank him among the great men of American history?

And here are typical answers:

An Elderly Librarian:

"George Washington is in a class by himself. He has to be first in our hearts because he founded our nation and taught us loyalty to the United States. He liked his rum and he liked the ladies, but he was a splendid leader. In one word — incomparable."

A Young Girl Clerk:

"He must have been a great man, and it certainly would be an honor to meet him. But really I don't have an opinion about him. All I know is it's a holiday — and I'm off."

A Middle-aged Telegrapher:

"Washington was a great man in his time, but I don't think he could cope with the situation today. I have no feeling of security for my children's lives — and that gives me concern. I don't care about myself — I'm on the way down. Washington in a word: Well, not a creator — a builder. I'd put only Lincoln and Franklin D. Roosevelt above him."

A young stenographer:

"He had the initiative to get men to fight who didn't want to. Above all he was courageous. I don't have a very clear picture of him, but — as far as I know — I admire him more than Lincoln."

An Accountant:

"To me he is a symbol of what every American should be — not only as a patriot, but as a humanitarian, family man and one who could stand up for what he thought was right. In one word? American. He started something that has survived — at least until now."

A Corporation Treasurer:

"Too many people forget that Washington could have benefited just as much, probably more, as a colonial under the British government. It wasn't necessary for him to do what he did. He was an idealist. But I wouldn't class-

Intra-mural Plays at Smith-Cotton

The annual Smith-Cotton high school Intra-Mural Plays will be held Thursday and Friday, March 9 and 10. The proceeds from ticket sales will go to the fund to buy equipment for the new school cafeteria which is to be constructed. The fund has grown large in the last several years and the senior student council which sponsors the event, hope this will be one of the biggest plays in the school's history, so the fund will be large enough to purchase, as a gift to the school, most of the cafeteria equipment.

The ticket sale will get under way this Friday and run through March 9. Each student selling ten or more tickets will receive a free ticket and the class selling the largest number of tickets on a percentage basis will receive their choice of position on the program. The high school student selling the largest number of tickets in excess of 100 will receive five dollars; the runner up will receive three dollars.

Awards to Best Actors

The plays are a competitive affair between the classes. The junior class won the plaque last year. A loving cup will be given to the best individual actor or actress. The loving cup is an annual award and is one of the most desired honors in the school.

The class sponsors are producing the plays in the various classes and senior students are serving in the capacity of stage managers and directors. The cast have all been chosen for this year's plays and they are rehearsing to give some of the best performances in the play's history. The casts, directors, stage managers and sponsors of each class are:

Hermit Thrush Comes To the Dillon Home

Mrs. Earl F. Dillon, of Smith-ton, called the Democrat-Capital to tell of the hermit thrush, or solitary thrush, a bird which comes to her yard each spring alone and later in the summer is joined by its mate.

The hermit thrush is a famous songster, reverses the wood thrush pattern and its white breast is less spotted. Its tail, which it slowly raises and lowers, is redder than its back.

The woodland thrush has a chestnut brown back and a redder head.

There are many species of the thrush family, among them being the robin.

All Male Jury In the 'Mercy Killing' Trial

Average Age of Men is 54; Seven Are Catholics

MANCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 22.—(P)—An all-male jury was completed today for the "mercy killing" trial of Dr. Hermann Nelson Sander on charges that, to cut short her suffering, he murdered a woman patient doomed by cancer.

Well weighted with maturity, the jury reflects the complexion of this industrial center — both in their jobs and religion.

The average age of the 12 who will hear the case is 54. At least seven are Roman Catholics.

A 13th juror was named as an alternate to serve in case one of the others is forced to retire from the trial.

While the religious issue was not raised in the selection of the jury, the stand of some sects against so-called "mercy killings" hung over the trial.

Catholic church doctrine particularly opposes mercy death.

Louis Cutter, 38-year-old mill worker from Hillsboro, was named foreman of the jury by Judge Harold E. Wescott.

Could be Neutral
Cutter, a widower and youngest member of the jury, is a Methodist.

Attorney general William L. Phinney used a challenge to excuse Mrs. Elizabeth M. Pierce of Wilton, a middle-aged black-haired mother of three children was being examined for possible selection as an alternate juror.

Mrs. Pierce said under questioning "I could be as neutral as anyone possibly could be in this case."

But the prosecution objected to her.

Court adjourned for the noon recess at this point. It will reconvene at 1 p. m. (CST).

Phinney told newsmen he intended to make a few brief remarks to the jurors and then take them to view the hospital room where Mrs. Abbie Borroto, 59, died after being given air injections.

Heated Discussion
Dr. Sander's attorney said the defendant would accompany the jury.

A heated discussion of possible jury tampering delayed the start of the morning session.

Chief defense counsel Louis E. Wyman won a clear bill from the court after he voiced a vigorous protest against insinuations he said appeared in some newspapers quoting the prosecutor, attorney general William L. Phinney.

Judge Harold E. Wescott replied:

"To date I have found nothing wrong with any one of the jurors."

Then he ordered the selection of jurors to resume and within a few minutes the 11th juror was seated — Arthur F. Auger, 67-year-old shoe factory foreman. He is married. There was no indication of his religion in the questioning.

The first unmarried man chosen was named to the 12th place on the jury. He is Leo Harkene, 42, a Manchester shoe-worker and veteran of World War II with the Seventh Armored division. Harkene said he is a member of the American Legion and the Syrian-American association.

Then the 12 jurors who will sit on the case were sworn in.

An alternate, who will serve only if one of the others is forced to retire from the case, remained to be chosen.

23 Dead, Many Hurt at Close Of Carnival

RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 22.—(P)—This fun loving city counted 23 dead and 3,844 injured today as the noise and hoopla of a four-day carnival ended with Ash Wednesday.

Five suicides, eight persons bitten by snakes, bashings and bus and automobile accidents caused some of the deaths.

An 11-year-old boy accidentally killed his mother with a gun left on a table by a party reveler.

Seven butchers went swimming. One was killed and three were wounded when a man in an army uniform took potshots at them for no apparent reason.

The toll included 126 hit by automobiles and 41 bitten by animals and humans.

The Sedalia Federation of Labor held its regular meeting Tuesday night at the Labor hall, and elected the following officers: R. C. McVey, Jr., a member of the carpenter's union, president; Harry O. Hull, electrical worker's union, vice-president; Emmet Sullivan, member of the Typographical union, was elected to his 17th term as secretary-treasurer; Frank Adams, who is a municipal employee with the police local, sergeant-at-arms.

The meeting was presided over by Harry Hull, past president of the organization.

Former Sedalian Burns to Death
Mr. an dMrs. Ernest Marshall, 1615 West Twentieth street, attended the funeral services in Booneville, Tuesday afternoon, of Mrs. Marshall's cousin, William Bowmer, 52, who was burned to death Friday night at Mesa, Ariz., when fire of undetermined origin destroyed a small frame ranch house in which he resided.

Mr. Bowmer, a World War II veteran and a barber, was a resident of Booneville, until four months ago, when he left for the state of Arizona. He was the brother of Jim Bowmer, a former Sedalian, who is also a barber, and while living in Sedalia, was employed at the Overfelt Barber Shop.

Other survivors include brothers and sisters, and another cousin of Sedalia, Mr. Elma Shirley of Forty-second street and Kentucky avenue.

Giving Away Inheritance
BELOIT, Wis., Feb. 22.—(P)—A Beloit college professor says he's going to give away his inheritance of a life income from one-third of a $2,000,000 trust fund.

Prof. Marriott C. Morris, Jr., who says he'll never take a penny for his own use, added he'll probably give the money to the cause of international peace.

The $2,000,000 trust fund for Morris and his brother and sister was provided in an order in Philadelphia orphan's court Monday distributing the estate of their father, who died in 1948.

The 49-year-old Beloit associate professor of modern languages said he appreciated "my father's desire, but I feel that I have not earned the money. I have, I suppose, a responsibility to try to help what shall be done with it, and I hope to do the best that I can in that respect. That's all there is to it."

He said his being a member of Society of Friends (Quakers) "might help to explain my feelings."

Morris, married and the father of a 10-year-old daughter, said he had not discussed the matter with his brother and sister.

Abandoned Autos Clutter up Streets
KANSAS CITY, Feb. 22.—(P)—Two thousand abandoned automobiles are cluttering up Kansas City streets, says Police Chief Henry W. Johnson.

"Many have been abandoned and a large number are in an unworkable condition," he said. "License numbers on some date back two or three years."

Johnson wants something done about the four-wheeled waifs. Home owners and business men report the vehicles parked in front of their establishments, but the police can't do much about it.

The car pound has a capacity of 75. It takes about 60 days to clear the legal red tape to sell an impounded car for junk.

Johnson has appealed to the city fathers for a larger parking lot for pickups and an ordinance making it an offense to park a car in one place longer than three days.

Mrs. Schumake has a son living in Kansas City, Mo.

Clamor for Chiang
TAIPEI, Formosa, Feb. 22.—(P)—The clamor for Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to resume the presidency of Nationalist China grew today.

Chiang retired from the office in favor of acting president Li Tsung-jen more than a year ago. Li has been in the United States since last year. He underwent surgical treatment in a New York hospital and since has been recuperating.

High officials today predicted Chiang would resume the office early next month. His return, they say, already has been decided in principle.

Breast Cancer Real Problem

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 22.—(P)—The nation's family doctors were told by Dr. Frank Rall of Cape Girardeau today that cancer of the female breast claims about 15,000 lives each year.

Speaking before the American Academy of General Practice, Dr. Rall said the disease is one of the greatest problems of women over 35 years of age.

He stressed the importance of education to convince women that it is wise to report suspicious signs even if a radical operation is necessary.

Dr. Rall served three years as a surgeon in the Mediterranean theater of operations during the war.

It is ended or until operators and union came to an agreement.

"My idea," Lesinski said, "is that the government should receive the profits of operation of industries it has seized."

In the past, the government has not kept profits earned during periods when it had an industry under control because of a labor dispute. The United Mine Workers have been critical of that, contending it was not real seizure.

Cool to Seizing Idea
The Truman administration has been cool thus far to the idea of seizing the mines in the present coal crisis. President Truman has said he doesn't have seizure power and does not want it.

Without administration support, no move for seizure legislation is likely to get far in congress.

As one new move, government officials were reported to be considering contempt action directly against John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and his top lieutenants.

Hold Woman, 50, After a Holdup
KANSAS CITY, Feb. 22.—(P)—A 50-year-old woman was held today by police following a $49 hold-up of a drugstore here last night.

Police said it was the first time in many years a woman had been arrested for a hold-up in Kansas City. In the police line-up the woman was identified by Alan J. Kantor as the one who robbed his drugstore.

Kantor said a woman came into the store about six o'clock last night and bought a bottle of wine and then left. He told police the woman returned three hours later and announced she was going to rob the store. She kept a hand in a pocket of her fur coat and Kantor and a clerk, Mrs. Florence Torrez, thought she had a revolver.

When the woman demanded, "Give me your money," Kantor handed her $49 in currency. After she left, Kantor called police. They arrested a woman in a nearby tavern. They also found $49 in a truck.

No charges have been filed against the woman, identified as Mrs. Marie Nichols, 50.

Half Million For Disaster Victims
JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 22.—(P)—Nearly a half million dollars was used last year to help Missouri disaster victims, the American Red Cross reports.

Altogether the Red Cross moved in after 1949 tornadoes swept 11 Missouri counties and the state suffered three major floods.

Important Events In World News

LONDON, Feb. 22.—(P)—A lot of doorbells were ringing today in a last minute hustle for those extra votes needed in what looks like a neck-and-neck general election in Britain tomorrow.

Party workers were out in force to urge support from those Britons who hadn't made up their minds.

Leaders of the two major political parties in this critical fight for power—the laborites or Prime Minister Attlee and the Conservatives of Winston Churchill—agreed the race would be close but each side expressed confidence of victory.

Dictator Franco Criticizes
Acheson's Loyalty to
Alger Hiss

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22—Secretary Acheson's refusal to "turn his back" on Alger Hiss is now criticized not only by GOP senators but by Dictator Franco's official radio.

The Madrid broadcast is significant. Because like Moscow, the "Voice of the Falange" radio station operates for and by the Spanish government. What it says represents the official view of the dictator.

It may also be significant that the Spanish attack on Acheson and the state department came shortly after Acheson had quit "turning his back on Franco" and had indicated that he was willing to extend him full recognition.

Despite this, the Voice of the Falange blared forth on Feb. 13:

"Well-known Communists have been located in the U. S. state department. This has been stated by a Republican senator (McCarthy of Wisconsin) who added that these men held quite important positions in this ministry. It is not merely a question of Hiss, who has been convicted of perjury and to whom Acheson has promised his continued friendship. We are not surprised by this announcement any more than we were surprised by the news that there was every type of undesirable among the advisers to the late president."

Aaron Burr And Hiss

Acheson's defense of Hiss was a lot of interesting precedents in U. S. history. They include: Andrew Jackson's defense of Aaron Burr; Charles Evans Hughes' defense of Senator Newberry; Taft's early defense of Richard Ballinger—later silenced; and Harry Truman's defense of Boss Tom Pendergast.

The late Franklin Roosevelt undoubtedly would have used a different strategy from Acheson's. He operated on the theory that such high office as secretary of state or president must be kept clear of embarrassing friendships, that a good field commander must remain behind the lines while his troops — and friends — were necessary casualties in battle.

But here are some famous personages and incidents in which they differed with FDR's strategy:

Harry Truman — Continued his loyalty to Kansas City's Boss Tom Pendergast, after the latter served a jail sentence, flew in a government plane to his funeral, and promptly ousted U. S. Attorney Maurice Milligan, who convicted Pendergast, immediately after Truman entered the White House.

Unquestionably Truman's loyalty to Pendergast has hurt him politically, but he has snapped his fingers at public opinion.

NOTE—It may have been the Pendergast incident that led Truman to support Acheson when he informally offered to resign over the Hiss incident three weeks ago. Though the state department issued a carefully worded denial, here is exactly what happened. Acheson dropped in at the White House late in the afternoon shortly after the Hiss statement, and Truman began to tell him, half-jokingly, what a barrage of criticism he had been getting. Acheson remarked that he would be glad to get out if he was causing any embarrassment, to which the president told his secretary of state to stand pat and not to pay any attention to those "yappers."

Champion of Newberry

Charles Evans Hughes — Cool, calm and cautious secretary of state Hughes did pretty much what Acheson did when Michigan's Senator Truman H. Newberry was convicted of violating the corrupt practices act.

Newberry had been elected to the senate in a contest with the late Henry Ford in which Newberry spent a great deal of money and later was convicted. Hughes, then in private practice, defended him, and the case was appealed to the supreme court which set aside the conviction. By this time Hughes had become secretary of state, but nevertheless wrote a letter stating: "The plain fact was that Senator Newberry was a pliant and most unjustly convicted and his conviction was set aside."

The Hughes letter brought just as loud protest from the Democrats as the Acheson defense of Hiss has from Republicans. Loudest to protest was Cordell Hull, later secretary of state himself, but then chairman of the Democratic national committee. Hull proclaimed:

"If Secretary Hughes does not know that the Newberry seat in the senate was bought, he is the only intelligent person in America who does not know that fact."

Jackson's Promotion

Andrew Jackson — When Aaron Burr was being tried for treason in Richmond, Andrew Jackson was one of the few to support him under extremely unpopular circumstances. Albert J. Beveridge describes the Richmond incident as follows:

"A tall, lank, uncouth-looking personage with long locks of hair hanging over his face . . . mounted the steps of a corner grocery and harangued the glowering assemblage that gathered in front of him. His daring and unmistakable air of danger to anyone who disputed him, prevented violent interruption certain to have been visited upon one less bold. He praised Burr as a brave man and a patriot who would have led Americans against the hated Spanish.

"Thus Andrew Jackson of Tennessee braved and cowed the hostile mob that was demanding and impatiently awaiting the condemnation and execution of (Burr)."

NOTE — As a result of this defense, President Madison held up Jackson's military promotion during the War of 1812.

William Howard Taft — On Sept. 13, 1909, President Taft wrote a letter to secretary of the interior Richard Ballinger, completely absolving him in the Alaskan land scandals. In 1911, however, Ballinger resigned following an investigation by Louis Brandies which disclosed that the letter of 1909 actually was written by Ballinger's attorney Oscar Lawler.

The incident led to the historic split between Taft and Teddy Roosevelt. Years later, secretary of the interior Harold Ickes, incidentally a strong Teddy Roosevelt man, discovered records which led him to absolve the deceased Ballinger.

There's More to Elections
Than the Material Issues

By Bruce Blossat

We could easily miss the meaning of the coming British election if we try too hard to see it from the average British voter's viewpoint. Like his cousin in this country, he's a pretty practical fellow. His food and shelter, his pocketbook, his general welfare, these are uppermost in his mind when he casts his ballot.

By contrast things like freedom, private enterprise, socialism, nationalization strike him as more or less remote abstractions. They won't become real issues to him unless they somehow get tangled up with his more immediate wants.

Nothing new or surprising in all this. It's perfectly natural that the ordinary Britisher today is worrying about getting a better house, more gasoline, more food at lower prices, and what not.

By the same token, it was to be expected that the midwestern farmer voting for President here two years ago was thinking about grain and hog prices—not the possible "encroachment of big government."

Yet we can't assume therefore that an election either in America or Britain has no significance beyond these bread and butter issues. An election has to be viewed not simply as a measure of what voters want, but in terms of what the winning party has promised to do and can reasonably be expected to do.

In Britain, for instance, the incumbent Labor Party is pledged to extend socialism further, the Conservatives to reverse that trend. It's likely there'll be action on these promises, whichever party wins.

It won't matter that the voters will not have had socialism and private enterprise much in mind when they voted. What counts is the effect of their votes. By giving power to one or the other party, they will actually promote one political philosophy over another, whether or not that be their intent.

For us in America the prime interest in the impending election is still how that question is to be answered. We already know that the British voter will act according to his individual interests as he sees them. What is important to watch is the impact of his action on general political trends in Britain, in America and in the world.

• What They Say

IRWIN RAUT (703 West Seventh St.)—An item appeared in the Democrat stating that the school board had selected a new member to fill a vacancy until the next election. The board has a legal right to take such an action. But the fact that the vacancy is not of recent occurrence and that the city election will be held in a few weeks makes one wonder why the board should take such an action at this time. This comes especially to mind when one recalls that by a strange coincidence, the board two years ago filled a vacancy just before the city election. In the natural course of events the new man will probably be nominated by the party to which he belongs, for he seems to be well qualified.

But quite aside from the question of personalities and qualifications there is a matter of principle involved to which attention should be drawn. By agreement between the two political parties the school board is bi-partisan. Each party nominates a person for membership on the board and this nomination is equivalent to election. For the board to choose its own members not only violates the present agreement but tends to make the board a self-perpetuating body. The board, as now constituted, is composed of three members who were selected by the Democratic party, one who was selected by the Republican party and two who were selected by the board. This puts the majority party on the board in the position of selecting the nominees for the minority party.

No one wants to put the schools into politics. But in view of the fact that there is already some complaint that the citizens at large have no voice in the selection of board members, since voting is limited to delegates at the city conventions, it would seem that the school board is laying itself open to severe criticism by attempting to control the selection of its members.

• So They Say

How can we expect the nations of the world to find peace through surrendering partial sovereignty to the United Nations so long as we, in our denominations, pay lip service to co-operation and then go about our problem of church extension in our insular way?

—Dr. Jacob Avery Long of San Francisco Theological Seminary.

All the energies of the Cominform appear to be directed at interfering in the internal affairs of Yugoslavia and overthrowing its legal government. This constitutes a threat in our opinion and therefore we are fully sympathetic to the Yugoslav position of struggling to maintain independence.

Mark 3:5; Ps. 95:10; Eph. 4:30; Prov. 8:3; Ps. 97:10

A GOOD ANGER

Yesterday you saw that anger is a driving force—it throws adrenalin into the bloodstream, and you are then ready for fight or flight. If anger is to be constructive, it must be harnessed to great causes. It must be like the explosions in the engine of your automobile—these explosions are under the control of purpose and will drive you to your destination. But if, instead of harnessing the explosions, you lighted all the gasoline in your tank at once, with one great "blowup" you would blow yourself and the car to pieces. That is what happens to the insides of you when you have a "blowup" of uncontrolled, non-constructive anger. It leaves you and your situation torn to pieces.

Jesus was an example of controlled anger. When He was about to heal the man with the withered arm, He saw the hard faces of religious men who opposed the act because it was being done on the Sabbath. He "looked around about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardness of their hearts." Here His anger was not personal pique, a wounded egotism—it was grief at the hardness of men's hearts that could block the healing of a poor unfortunate. His anger drove Him to oppose these men on behalf of the underprivileged. It was therefore a righteous anger.

Anger is righteous if it has in it grief on account of what is happening to others, and not a grudge on account of what is happening to oneself. But one must be careful at this point, for the mind plays tricks on itself; it will dress up its personal resentments in garments of righteous and religious indignation so that they will pass muster before our religious self. Many a man fights "for principle," when he is fighting only for personal pique and pride.

But righteous indignation, even when it is simple-pure righteous, should not be kept overnight. "Be ye angry, and sin not"; "Let not the sun go down upon your wrath." Here is an anger that sins not, and yet it must not be kept overnight lest it corrode the soul into bitterness.

O God, give me clear insight and courage to see myself truly, for I may be cloaking my resentments with garments of piety, and I know these resentments are deadly in whatever form they gain a footing in my life. I would harbor no dangerous Trojan-horse enemies within me. Help me then to be completely honest with myself. Amen.

The Doctor Says—
Bronchiectasis, Lung Disease,
Fought With Surgery, Penicillin

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Bronchiectasis is a lung condition in which the small pockets in the lungs which are normally filled with air when a person breathes are broken down, enlarged and filled with mucus, fluid or semi-solid material. If one could see the areas which are affected, they would look like a bunch of grapes.

The symptoms of bronchiectasis are generally like those of any other irritation in the lungs. Chronic cough, usually with the bringing up of a fairly heavy mucus sputum, sometimes having a foul odor, is common. This, however, is like any other chronic infection involving the breathing apparatus so that it is not enough on which to make a diagnosis.

The diagnosis, therefore, depends on special examinations, including taking an X-ray picture. Also the use of a remarkable instrument called a bronchoscope by which the dilated pockets can be seen is helpful.

Bronchiectasis interferes with health and ability to work and it can produce dangerous complications and even death. It should be prevented if at all possible. Since it can come from so many different causes, a person who has a long-continued cough, regardless of what is producing it, ought to try to get at the bottom of the trouble early and stop the difficulty before bronchiectasis has had a chance to set in.

Once bronchiectasis has been diagnosed, treatment should not be long delayed. Of course, the first step is to see if the condition which produced the bronchiectasis is still active and to use whatever is necessary to attack the underlying cause.

The medical treatment of bronchiectasis has not been highly successful, at least until recently. However, penicillin or one of its relatives, if given early enough seems to be quite helpful.

AFTER leaving the Hallecks, Alice chose a quiet hotel on the upper East Side of New York City. She was presently sorry for her choice. The very quietness proved a drawback in forgetting the things she wanted most to forget.

She had planned her program soon after she departed from Grosvenor Point. The thing to do was to get another job immediately; let it absorb her. To forget then as quickly as she could her connection with Brent and Muriel Halleck and a summer, once so promising, that had come to such a dismaying end. The program was sensible. But Alice could not seem to make it work.

A disturbing physical listlessness had seemed to take possession of her. It did not, unfortunately, extend to her mind. Her thoughts churned incessantly, going over and over the same ground again and again.

Alice had, she realized, allowed herself to get so far involved in the affairs of the Hallecks that to forget them was next to impossible.

She brooded over the stunning way in which Muriel had revealed a totally unsuspected side of her nature. Her true nature, perhaps. And, remembering, she felt a little numb.

She had liked Muriel, grown fond of her; admired her ability and drive. But all along Muriel had worn a mask.

And Brent? Even yet, despite Muriel's cold announcements, her conscience plagued her. While living under Muriel's roof, while she was paid by Muriel, Alice had stashed her in the back.

Belatedly and helplessly, Alice knew that she should have left Grosvenor Point after that night on the beach when she had first become—well, acutely aware of Brent Halleck.

For a week Alice dawdled around the hotel, too upset to exchange its unwelcome quiet for more diverting surroundings. She was too busy with self-reproach. But one morning, she spoke to a too-pale oval of a face gazing at her from the mirror:

"Now see here, Alice Pine! Alice muttered. "You're an egotistical ass. You didn't break up their marriage. You're not that attractive. They'd begun to crack up before you ever came on the set. So stop beating yourself and get a job. Heaven knows you need one."

She went downtown that same day, visited employment bureaus and advertising agencies. She filled out application blanks.

BACK at the hotel late in the afternoon, Alice was slipping out of her street shoes when there came a light tap at the door.

"Come in," she called, hastily thrusting her feet into slippers.

The door opened. Muriel Halleck stood there.

"M-Muriel!" Alice rose in astonishment.

Muriel stepped into the room. She was beautifully dressed in a black sheer and small black hat. Her appearance was assured. Yet somehow, Alice thought, Muriel herself seemed subdued.

"I'm very glad you sent me a forwarding address, Alice," she said. "And I charmed your desk clerk here into letting me come up without his phoning. I—I didn't know whether you'd see me, if you had warning."

"But, Muriel, how silly!"

"Well," Muriel looked at her gravely, "I couldn't take a chance. I had to see you, Alice. Something's not quite right."

"Oh," Alice began, "don't let anything bother you." But it does.

Muriel stopped her. "But it does.

Wife Must Always Maintain
Her Husband's Self-Respect

Want to help your husband maintain the dignity that is essential to a man's self respect?

Then don't:

Reveal his faults to your women friends. Even if they are low-rating their husbands, you can keep still instead of saying, "The thing about Bill that irritates me the most is . . ."

Tell a story on him in which he plays anything but a heroic role. You can get a lot of laughs out of showing him up, but you won't if you remember it's your job to make your husband look superior, not silly.

Tuesday night. The concluding number on the program was "Old Missouri," a song composed by Girard Blair, of Sedalia.

Three theatrical troupes were in the city the cast and choruses of two musical comedies, "Little Johnny Jones" and the "Isle of Spice" arriving as the "Brewster's Millions" troupe was departing for Moberly.

Prof. G. L. Coleman, of Fayette, formerly county superintendent of schools, was in the city on business.

M. C. Burns, foreman of the water service for the Missouri Pacific, made a trip to California, Mo., on company business.

Order him around. The "Jim, will you get me a glass of water" type of wife makes her husband look like a stooge.

Build up your reputation as a wonderful manager by boasting of all the tricks you resort to in order to stretch his pay check. That may make you look good, but think how it makes your husband look—and feel.

Don't Make Cracks About In-Laws

Run in-Laws

After all, he's one of them and you can't run them down without also putting him in a poor light.

Complain about his job. If a woman wants others to respect her husband's work she has to show some respect for it herself.

Contradict or correct him when he is doing the talking. This will make him look henpecked and a henpecked husband is always an object of pity or ridicule.

Turn him into a caricature of himself by always stressing some one quirk in his personality, like his being forgetful, or having absolutely no business judgment, or being glib.

And never, never brag about how you manage him. After all, what kind of an opinion would you have of another woman's husband if you knew that his wife could lead him around by the nose?

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and to aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Resources More Vital Than Latin

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 22—(AP)—The National Association of Secondary School Principals was told Tuesday conservation of natural resources is going to be more important than Latin and Algebra if the race is to survive.

Willard E. Goslin, superintendent of Schools of Pasadena, Calif., said about two Americans will be where one now is in the 2025 and if something isn't done they are going to have a hard time eating. He estimated a 275,000,000 population by 2025.

Goslin advocated a school of the future in which conservation, democracy, and peace would be more important than Latin and algebra.

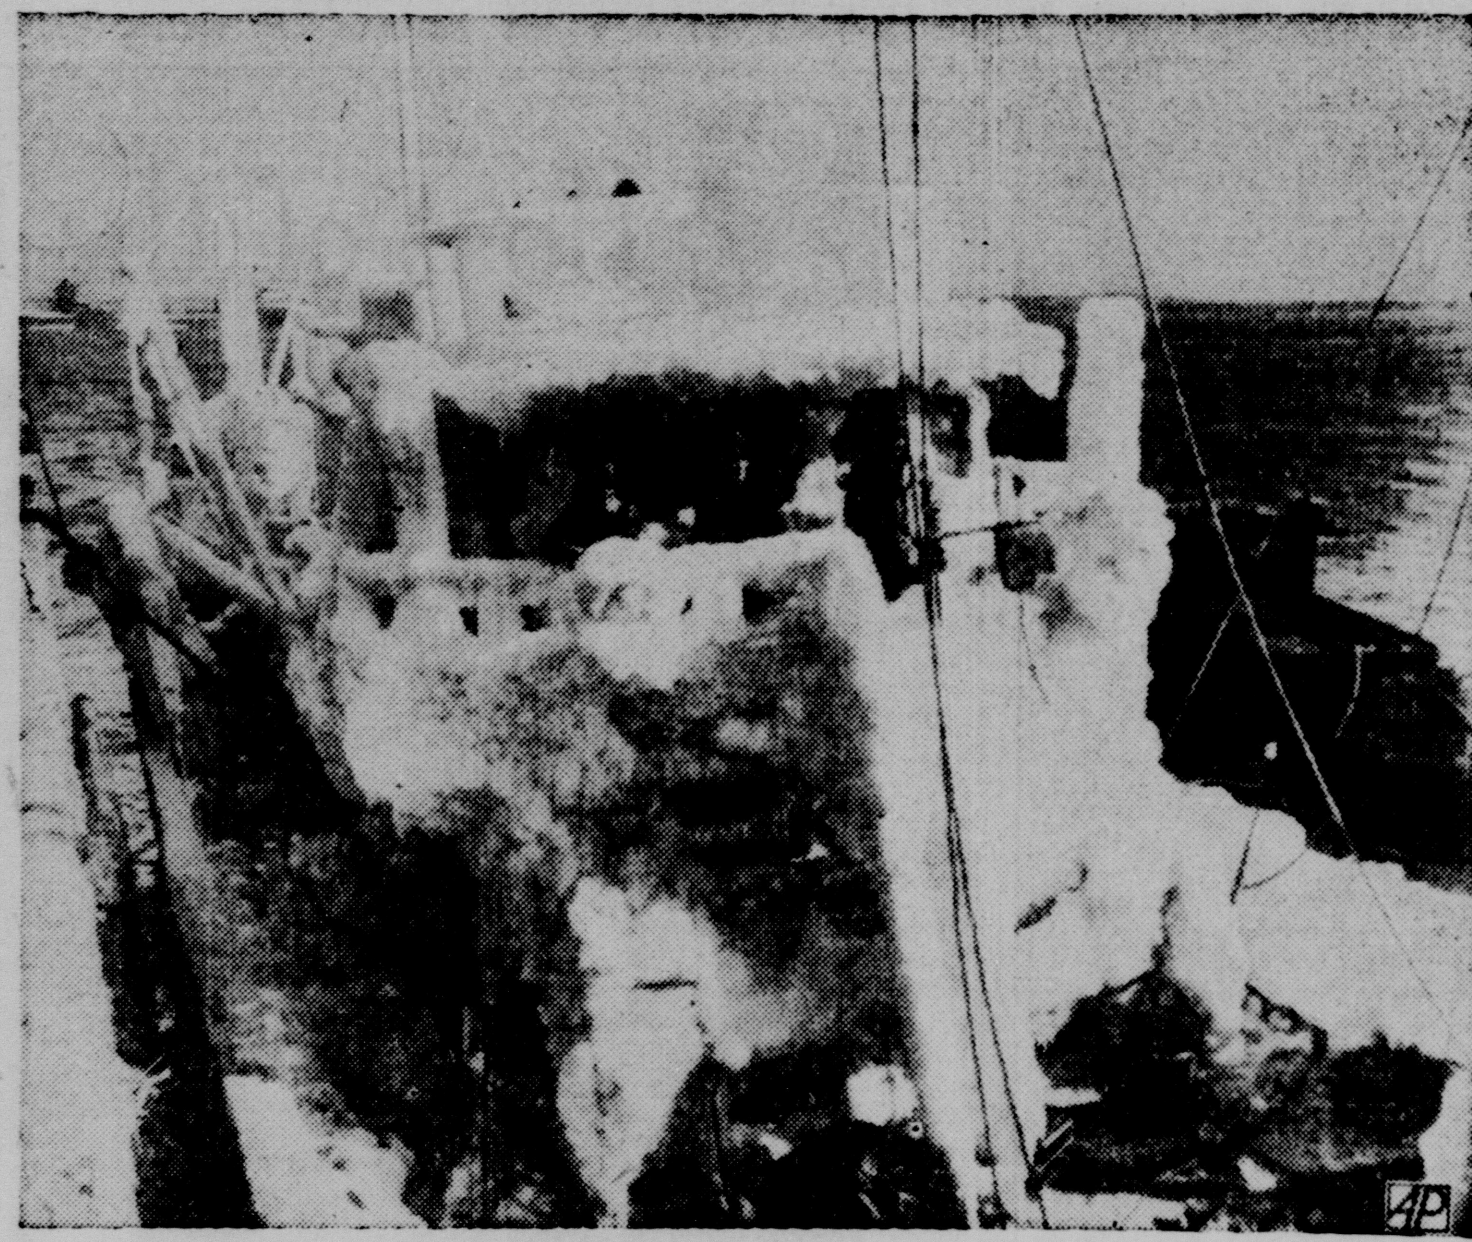

Skills and knowledge will be mandatory for survival in 2025, Goslin predicted, when the cream of natural resources probably will be exhausted.

Food, apparel, homes "and what is left of the schools" will depend on wits, he said.

Goslin followed J. Paul Leonard, president of the California State College at San Francisco, who has taken colleges to task for limiting high school educational needs by demanding eight to ten units of traditional subjects.

College entrance subjects have attained a social prestige which makes basic courses of college and noncollege the major emphasis of high school, where only 20 per cent of the graduates are headed for college, he said.

How to Get That Homework Done

Miss Gilbert, our grammar school principal, spoke the other night at the regular Parent-Teachers' meeting, on getting children to do their homework when they want to listen to the radio.

"We mustn't give them a flat 'no,'" Miss Gilbert said. "If we adults really believe in tolerance and moderation, we should instill these qualities in our children. Listening to the radio is fine—in moderation—as long as homework gets done, too."

From where I sit, the lady was dead-right. This radio vs. homework problem is a wonderful way to see to it that our youngsters acquire the sensible moderate habits they'll need later on.

I've never believed in hard and fast rules—except where absolutely necessary. Let the other fellow do as he likes, as long as he's temperate and tolerant. Guess that's why I've never felt we should quarrel with the fellow who is partial to a glass of beer—the "Beverage of Moderation."

American Legion.

The 1950 wrestling season gets underway tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the Sedalia armory with six of the nation's top-flight heavyweights in competition.

Topping off the program will be the featured battle between "Wild Bill" Longson, the No. 1 contender for the world title, and Mike Sharp, the Canadian mat giant. Longson, who has drawn more big houses in St. Louis than any other heavyweight, is striving to retain his undefeated record, established last December.

However, Sharpe, who is well known among the Sedalia fans, has been setting a fast pace throughout the middle west and plenty of "fireworks" can be expected when Sharpe clashes with Longson.

Sedalia Debut
Lee Henning of Buffalo, N. Y., will make his debut here against Vic Holbrook of Van Nuys, Calif., in the semi-final contest. Henning is undefeated in the Kansas City area and his tremendous strength and cunning mat strategy makes him a dangerous foe.

Holbrook, a favorite in this area five years ago, is making his mid-western mat comeback and has been clipping off victories at a fast pace in recent weeks. Rated as the top scientific wrestler along the West coast, Holbrook will be extended to the limit by his rugged New York rival.

Another fierce battle can be expected when Vic Christy, former world champion, meets Tommy O'Toole, the fighting Irishman from Boston. Christy is famous throughout this area as one of the greatest exponents of the flying body scissors.

Cage Action at Hubbard Tonight

The fast stepping U. S. Trade School All-Stars will appear against the Sedalia Stars tonight at 8:00 o'clock on the Hubbard high school court.

This will be the first appearance of Negro semi-pro ball clubs at Hubbard high school all season. Friday night the Jefferson City Clowns will appear against the Sedalia Stars.

Both visiting clubs have an array of college ball players and should present plenty of action to Sedalia fans. The Sedalia Stars are composed of several members of past Hubbard championship teams and they should provide enough opposition to keep the games interesting.

Low of 69 Shot in Two-Ball Golf Meet

ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 22—(P)—Match play eliminations started today in the International Mixed Two-Ball Golf tournament that provided a couple of surprises in yesterday's qualifying round.

Marilynn Smith of Wichita, Kas., and Herb Minert of Gary, Ind., shot a six-under-par 69 that tied the favored couple for low medal score. Favorites Louise Suggs of Lithia Springs, Ga., and Toney Penna of Cincinnati narrowly missed setting a new tournament record.

It was Miss Suggs' turn at the ball and her 15-foot putt on the 18th green rimmed the cup but wouldn't fall. Penna had to tap it in for the 65th stroke.

Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore and Bill Goldbeck of Mt. Kisco, N. Y., were next with 68. Two teams tied at 69 were Ann Sparrow of Tampa and Bill Jellison of Denver and Alice Bauer of Midland, Tex., and Al Bessellink of Detroit.

Marlene Bauer, woman athlete of 1949, and her partner, home professional Denny Champagne, had 71.

Golf Tourney Begins For Baseball Players

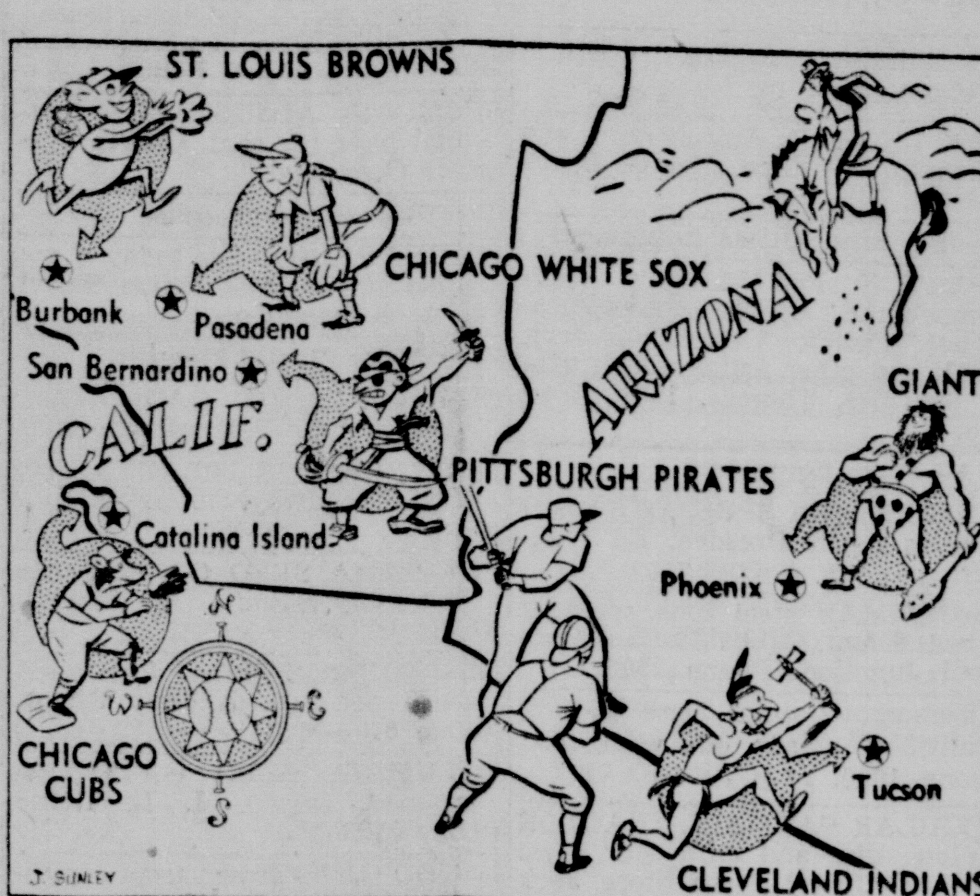

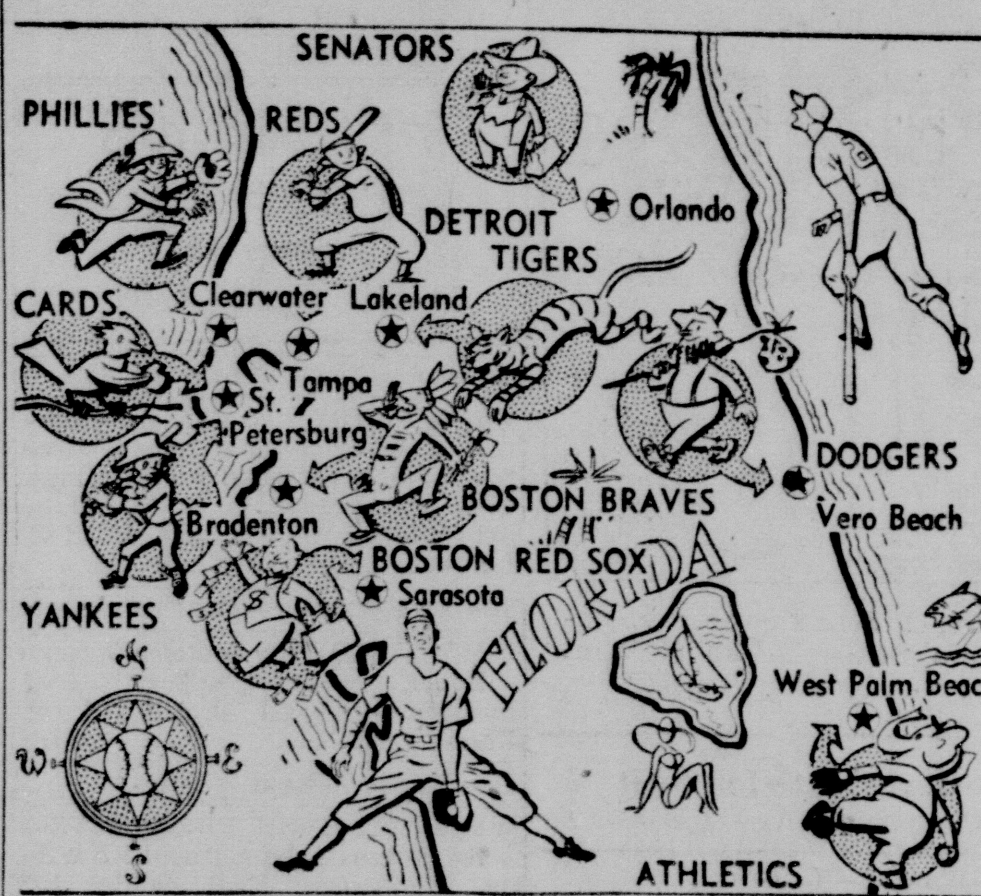

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 22—(P)—Qualifying play begins today in the eleventh national baseball players golf championship and a record field of 57 active and former players is on hand.

Defending champion Pete Harris of Miami, formerly with the Atlanta Crackers, will not be required to qualify in the 18 hole preliminary round.

A driving contest was set for the afternoon. Lou Kretlow of the Detroit Tigers, winner last year with a 275-yard belt, will defend honors in that division.

In warmup rounds yesterday, Carl Hubbell, director of the New York Giants farm system and Lou Klein of the St. Louis Cardinals, carded 76s over the par 71 layout. Jack Russell, former Washington Senators pitcher had a 77 and Heinie Manush, former Washington and Detroit outfielder, carded an 80.

Holy Cross Chalks up 26th Win

Crusaders Only
Major Team
Still Unbeaten

NEW YORK, Feb. 22—(P)—The pressure gets stronger and stronger, but Holy Cross keeps on winning.

The nation's only unbeaten major college basketball team won its 26th straight game last night by smacking Boston College 71-63.

It was the Crusaders' 23rd in a row this season; plus a carry-over of three from last year.

H. C. goes after No. 27 on Saturday night against Brown in Providence, R. I. The last time a college team won 27 in a row occurred six years ago when Army was unbeaten in on 15-game season and then won 12 straight the next year before losing to Pennsylvania.

Cousy Sets Record
Boston College, upset winner over Villanova last Saturday, took an early 10-4 edge against Holy Cross subs, but once the regulars took the floor the Crusaders forged into the lead and stayed there.

Bob Cousy, Holy Cross star, set a Boston arena record by sinking 14 consecutive free throws, 11 in the second half. In addition he tallied four field goals for a total of 22 points.

The game as the second of a doubleheader. In the opener Columbia, sparked by John Azary's 11-point spree late in the second half, whipped Harvard, 62-52, in an Eastern "Ivy" league game.

St. Johns of Brooklyn and La Salle, ranked sixth and 12th in this week's Associated Press poll, compared to Holy Cross' second, stayed in the running for a post-season tournament bid.

LaSalle took Manhattan, 65-60 on Frank Comerford's three field goals in the closing minutes and St. Johns wiped out an early 21-7 deficit to nick NYU, 66-60. The games were played as part of a twin bill at Madison Square Garden.

Carolians Meet
North Carolina State, ranked ninth, walloped North Carolina, 70-44, to win its fourth straight regular season Southern conference championship. To make it official, however, N. C. State must win the conference post-season tournament.

Arkansas took a firmer grip on first place in the unpredictable Southwest conference race by swamping Rice, 61-38. In other conference games Texas A&M nipped Texas Christian, 60-58, in overtime and Baylor came from behind in the closing minutes to nip Texas, 43-41.

The Oklahoma Aggies handed Wichita its 13th consecutive defeat, 49-40, in the Missouri Valley conference while San Francisco avenged an early season defeat by nicking San Jose State 54-44. The victory kept alive San Francisco's hopes of getting a post-season tourney bid.

Easter and Rosen Could Give Indians Wallop Needed Behind Best Pitching

CLEVELAND, Feb. 21—(NEA)—Luke Easter and Al Rosen are this year expected to give the Indians the punch they lacked behind the best pitching in baseball last season.

There were fabulous tales of Luscious Luke Easter's hitting in the Pacific Coast league last season before a fractured kneecap forced him to Cleveland for surgery in mid-June.

The Cleveland club tried him in the outfield last fall, but Buc-ky Harris, who managed him in San Diego, says the six-foot four-and-a-half inch, 240-pound Negro belongs at first base.

Harris predicts that he'll hit .325 in the American league, manufacture 25 home runs and drive in 100 runs.

A handsome lad, Rosen, who starts spring training in Tucson on his 25th birthday, March 1, has been an outstanding minor league hitter since coming out of the navy in 1946.

Between stops in Cleveland, he drove in 50 runs, batting .321 for San Diego in '49. He is to get another thorough trial at third base, where last trip Kenny Keltner showed almost unmistakable signs of being finished.

Bridges Taught Saltzman
The Tribe pitching staff will be bolstered by a half-dozen recruits, but the one most likely to succeed is Hal Saltzman, a sturdy right hander from the University of Oregon.

Major league clubs started bidding for Saltzman when he bagged 23 games for a sixth place training "vacation."

Owen, who battled .273 in 62 games after he was acquired from the Brooklyn Dodgers last season, again is expected to head the Cub catching corps this year.

Key Man of Club Upsets Branch Rickey

Robinson's Extra
Airdupois is
Cause of Worry

By Joe Reichler
BROOKLYN, Feb. 22—(P)—Twelve pounds are causing owner Branch Rickey more concern than the five reluctant Brooklyn Dodgers who have yet to sign their 1950 contracts.

These 12 pounds may prove to be more stubborn than the will of Pitches Rex Barney, Jack Banta, Clarence Podbielan, outfielder Gene Hermanski and infielder Bob Morgan—the five reluctant athletes.

This extra airdupois belongs to Jackie Robinson, the key man of the National league champions. The circuit's most valuable performer as well as batting champion, currently making pictures in Hollywood, reportedly is totting around 208 pounds of muscle, bone and flesh. His normal playing weight is 196 pounds.

Interrupted Training
That and the fact that Robinson probably won't report to the Dodgers' spring training camp until March 4 or 5 is worrying the Dodger president. Work on a film may delay Robinson's training.

"I'm worried sick about it," Rickey admitted during a press conference. "Robinson's condition is easily the most apprehensive thing on the club. He's had trouble with his weight before and I know how difficult it will be for him to pare down to his normal playing weight. I hope he's doing some running in between takes."

Robinson had his greatest season last year, batting .342, leading the league in stolen bases and finishing second to Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner in runs batted in. As a reward for his outstanding season, Jackie was given a $35,000 contract, representing the highest salary ever paid to a Brooklyn player. However, he was 31 last month and admittedly has slowed up a step or two.

34 Stuffed Players
Thirty-four players have agreed to terms including pitchers Elwin (Preacher) Roe and Clem Labine, whose signed contracts arrived at the Dodgers' office today. Outfielder Carl Furillo and catcher Bruce Edwards entered the fold yesterday. Furillo got a substantial while Edwards took a cut.

Roe, who will be 32 years old next Sunday, enjoyed his finest season in 1949 winning 15 and losing six. He won the only game the Dodgers captured in the world series, outpitching the New York Yankees' Vic Raschi 1-0. A broken finger he received in that game is now fully healed, the slender native of Ash Flat, Ark., reported.

Labine, a 23-year-old rookie from St. Paul, is counted upon to help in a relief role. The right-hander appeared in 64 games last season, coming through with a 12-6 won and lost record.

Jacksonville, Fla.—Danny Ruggerio, 165, New York, outpointed Art Tatta, 162, New Haven, Conn., and 10 (top regular bout on Joe Louis—Sid Peaks exhibition card).

S-C Tigers Are Still in Regional Race

Team Beat Fulton
61-21; Advanced
To Semi-Finals

The high riding Smith-Cotton Tigers bowled over the hapless Fulton Hornets, Tuesday night, 61 to 21 to advance to the semi-finals of the regionals at Boonville. The Tigers were in complete charge of the game from start to finish, and the Fulton aggregation never at any time caused the Tigers any trouble. Sedalia's reserves succeeded in out-scoring the Fulton boys.

In the second game of the evening, the highly rated Boonville Pirates yet did eek past the Kemper Yellowjackets 40 to 41. The Boonville team was seeded second in the tourney and were rated heavy favorites over Kemper. Kemper was leading the game, prior to 2½ minutes before the game came to a close. Boonville will meet the winner of the Marshall-Saint Peters contest in the lower bracket semi-finals, Thursday night.

High Point Honors
Bill Holst, the towering Sedalia center, again took high point honors for the Tigers by dumping in 18 points. Walker, Tiger guard, took second, with 9 points. Pickering led the Hornets with six points. Schultz and Massarand were second with four points apiece.

Smith-Cotton was red hot on the percentage of shot made by sinking 28 of 55 shots for a sizzling total of 50.9 per cent of their shots good. Fulton cagers hit the basket eight times out of 56 shots for a total of 14.3 per cent.

In the first quarter, the Tigers outscored the Hornets 16 to 5. In the second period, the Smith-Cotton starters were taken out, and the reserves and regulars outscored Fulton 14 to 6. This scoring moved S-C to an intermission lead of 30 to 13.

Final Half
After the half, the reserves went on to outscore the Hornets 6 to 1, before they were taken out midway in the period. The Tigers made eight points in that period, compared to two points marked up by Fulton. This gave Sedalia a lead of 38 to 13 going into the final quarter.

In the final period, all ten Tigers saw action, and outscored the Fulton five, 23 to 7 to win 61 to 21. Marvin Lankenau, a starting guard, did not play, due to an injured hand.

The Tigers will play the winner of the Jefferson City-Columbia tilt in the semi-finals at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday. The Jay-Kewpie contest will be played at 9:00 o'clock tonight. The Marshall-St. Peters game will be played tonight at 7:30 p.m. The finals will be played off at 9:00 p.m. Friday, and the winner will go to the state tournament to be played in Columbia next week.

Two Titles Decided in Basketball

Springfield Team
Owns MIAA Title;
Eagles Win MCAU

By the Associated Press
Two Missouri Conference basketball championships were decided last night and a third was wrapped up barring a sensational upset. Taking them in order of importance:

MIAA—Springfield State, although idle, won the MIAA crown when Maryville State tripped the invading Warrensburg Mules, 54 to 48.

Springfield wound up the season with an 8-2 record, while Warrensburg concluded its long season with 7-3. Maryville, with a 5-3 record, can share the runner-up spot by winning its two remaining games.

MCAU—Central college's Eagles beat Missouri Valley at Marshall, 73-54, and own the MCAU title for all practical purposes. It was the tenth straight loop win without a setback for Central.

The Eagles can't lose now and they can be tied only if they drop their two remaining games and second place Culver-Stockton wins its final pair. The rivals have one with each other.

Junior college—Moberly Junior college 7-1, although not playing a conference game, won the Missouri public junior college league race when its only near rival was beaten. Southwest Baptist college performed the good turn at Bolivar, tripping St. Joseph 70-57.

Southwest and St. Joe (6-2) tie for second.

CHANNEL SWIMMER extraordinary was Gertrude Ederle, left, who became the first woman to make the treacherous 19-mile swim in 1926. Hopeful aspirant of 1950 is 17-year-old Shirley May France of Somerset, Mass., right. "Trudy" Ederle gained fame and fortune when, at age 19, she swam the Channel in a record 14 hours and 31 minutes. The welcome given this daughter of a New York butcher on her return home surpassed, "in numbers noise, spontaneity and variety," any reception ever given by the big city to a distinguished visitor. After the Mid-Twenties, public interest in Channel swimming died out, but was revived with a bang in 1949, when Shirley May France announced she would tackle the Channel. Unsuccessful last year, she will try again this summer.

Near Half Million Red Cross Aid

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 22—(A)—Disaster victims in Missouri got nearly half a million dollars in aid from the American Red Cross last year.

Gov. Forrest Smith reported the figures Tuesday. They were based on a report by Robert Clough, state liaison officer for the Red Cross. It showed tornadoes swept 11 Missouri counties last year and the state suffered three major floods.

May 21 tornadoes, especially the one that hit Cape Girardeau, were the most costly. About $386,000 went to rebuild homes, replace furniture, give medical care and other help to the victims.

Regional blood centers at St. Louis and Springfield collected 19,154 pints of blood for use at 84 hospitals. The Red Cross gave $134,000 worth of "home service" to service men and veterans and $26,000 to meet civilian emergencies.

Volunteers gave 29,000 hours of their time to veterans in Springfield, Jefferson Barracks and Excelsior Springs.

Add 27 More Academy Sites

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22—(A)—Air Force Tuesday added 27 sites to its original list of 195 places suggested as the possible location for the proposed air academy. Among the 27 was Enid, Okla.

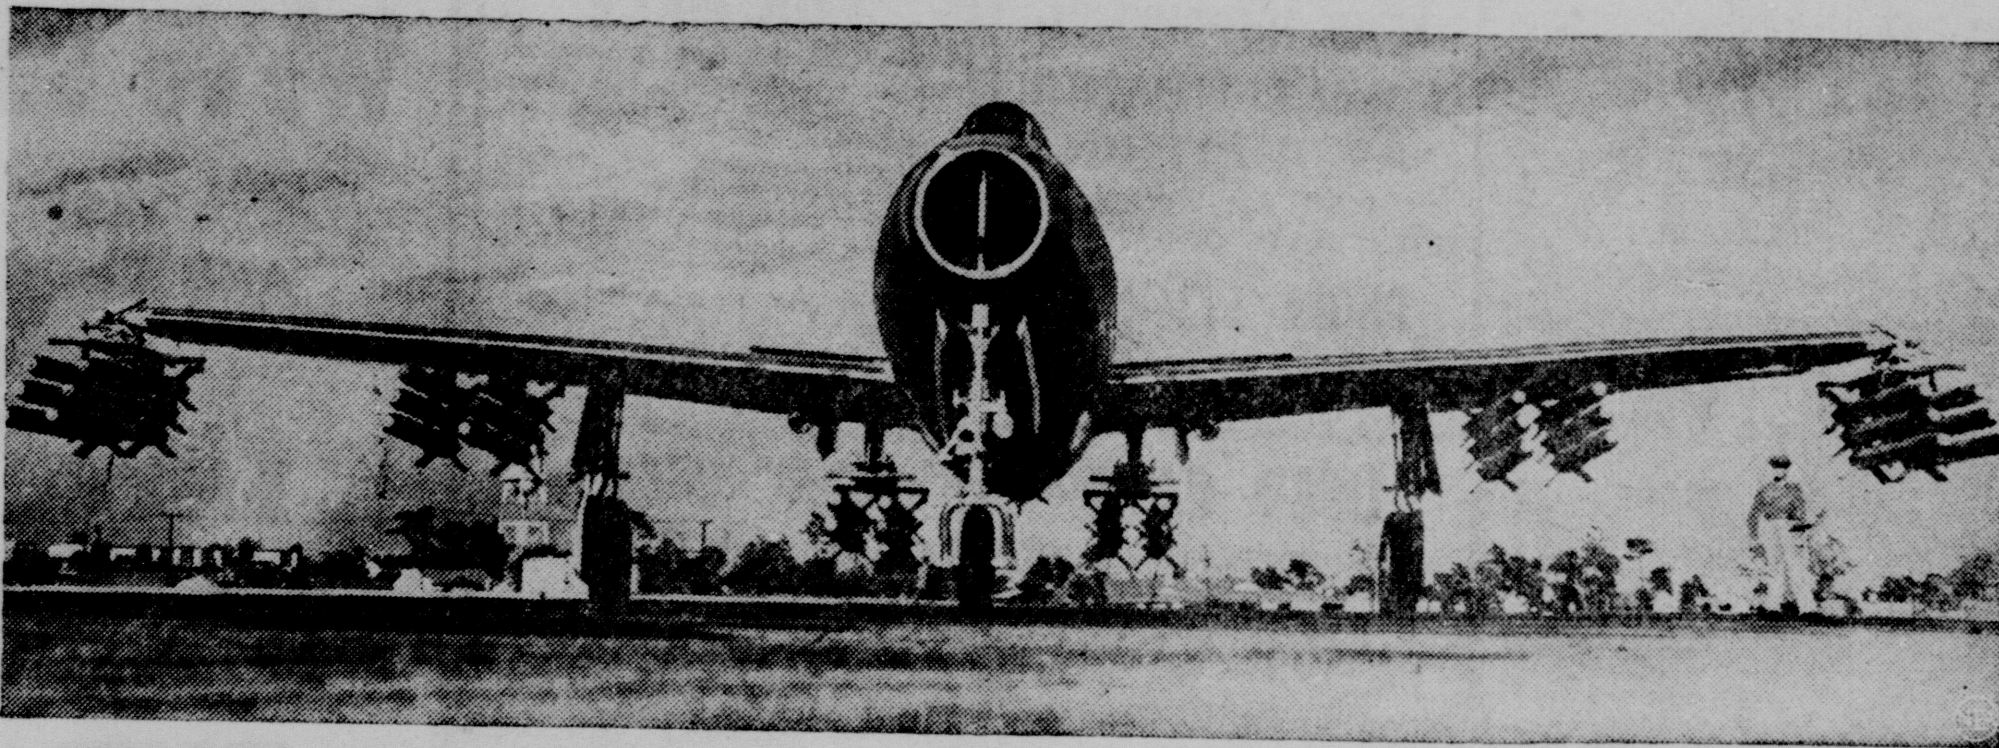

The additional site proposals were received within two weeks after the original deadline of Dec. 31, 1949.

The air force announced that all of the 222 locations will be surveyed by the army engineers or the nearest air force installation's officer. Some already have been surveyed.

Chain Store Managers Plan for Dinner

A meeting of the Sedalia chain store managers was held at the office of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce offices Tuesday. The managers present met and made plans pertaining to a dinner to be given the county 4-H club leaders at the Fifth street Methodist church on March 10th.

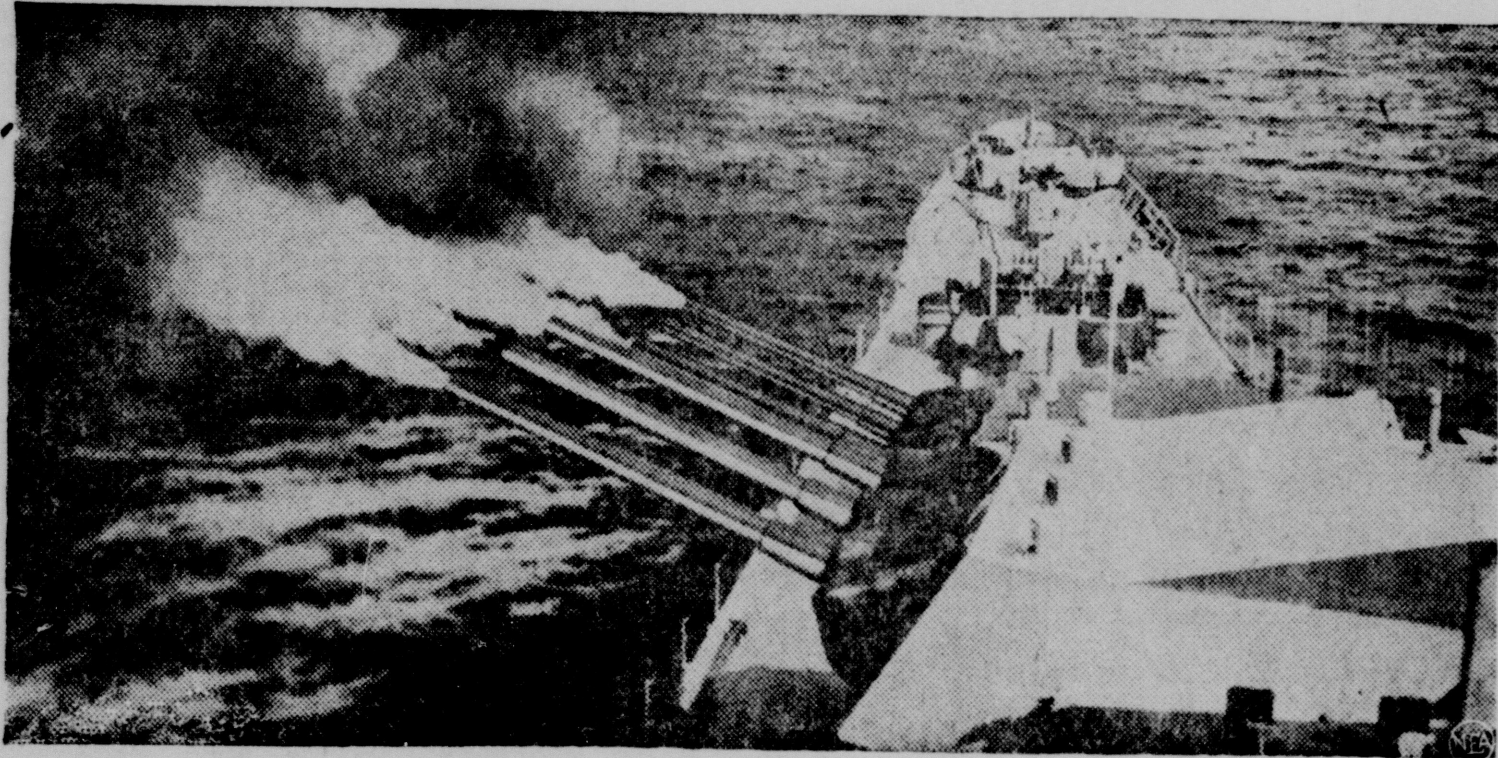

Gano Stearns, manager of the Safeway store, presided over the meeting.

Operation Portrex Will See Planes Fire Like Warships

The largest amphibious maneuvers by U. S. forces since the war—"Operation Portrex," at the tiny Caribbean island of Vieques near Puerto Rico—will provide a testing ground for Air Force jets packed with unprecedented power. These pictures show, as an example, how the new F-84E Thunderjet fighter will be loaded with rockets to give it a knock-out punch that compares to the broadsides of big warships. In fairness to the navy, it should be noted that the planes are not capable of the sustained firepower of warships.

Bothwell 4-H Club Meets

The Bothwell 4-H club met Friday night at the Bothwell school with all members and their parents present. The club entertained the Georgetown 4-H club, which had a 100 per cent attendance.

The meeting was called to order by Barbara Sue Wise, Mrs. Raus Sprinkles, song leader, led the U. S. ARMY'S "PRIVATE ENEMY"—Two "Aggressor" infantrymen fire on a U. S. Army position pointed out by their lieutenant, at left. The "Aggressor Force" consists of highly trained units wearing unique uniforms and using foreign equipment and tactics. "Aggressor" troops are trained by the Army to act as a realistic enemy during war games.

"AGGRESSOR ARMY" TRAVELS LIGHT—Soldiers of the U. S. Army's specially-trained "Aggressor Army" show off a pneumatic tank, one of many such pieces of equipment used in maneuvers. The tank body is marked with the triagon, characteristic marking for "aggressor" vehicles. For about three years, the U. S. Army at Fort Riley, Kans., has trained "Aggressor" troops to act as "the enemy" in field maneuvers and exercises.

Singing of "America the Beautiful."

Games were played and refreshments were served.

Transient Slashes Assistant Chief

MARSHALL, Mo., Feb. 22—(A)—Milo (Mike) Hutton, assistant fire chief, was slashed on the left arm and shoulder Monday night by a transient who asked a free night's lodging from the city.

Bill French, chief of police, identified the transient as Joe Kilgore, 65, of Macon, Mo. No charges have been filed against him.

French said Kilgore was placed in a cell with other prisoners and started an argument over blank-

ets. Hutton went in to make peace. Kilgore cut Hutton with a straight razor, French said, and doctors needed 16 stitches to close the wound.

Act to Foreclosure On Lustron Corp.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 22—(A)—The government Tuesday filed a $36,000,000 foreclosure action against Lustron Corp., mass producer of steel homes.

The Reconstruction Corp., which financed Lustron's attempt to turn out 150 homes daily on an assembly line basis, told the federal district court that Lustron "cannot be continued without loss and the wasting of its assets. Lustron has lost $20,000,000 since its organization late in 1947, RFC claimed.

RFC's move came as Lustron officials sought approval of reorganization plans. Carl G. Strandlund, Lustron president, has maintained that RFC would get "only a nickel on the dollar" through foreclosure.

Lustron, he said, could be put on a paying basis if the RFC grants another loan—of between $3,500,000 and $5,000,000. He said this money would be used to step up production and finance distribution of the porcelain-enameled-steel homes.

Strandlund also was named a defendant in the RFC action. It asked a $15,487,875 judgment against him. This covers the amount he personally guaranteed on the $37,500,000 RFC advance to Lustron. Lustron met some payments on the loan.

Shot in Theater by An Improvised Gun

MARSHALL, Mo., Feb. 22—(A)—Granville Ferguson, 16, was shot in the hip and slightly wounded Monday night at the North Street theater, Chief of Police Bill French said Tuesday.

French said a .22 caliber bullet was fired from an improvised gun of iron pipe and wood by a 15-year-old Marshall boy. A nail was used for a firing pin and a door hinge, controlled by a rubber band, for a hammer.

The improvised gun was found on the 15-year-old boy shortly after the incident. Similar weapons were found on two other youths.

The case has been referred to juvenile authorities for action.

Site at Davenport To be Considered

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22—(A)—The air force notified Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) Tuesday that Davenport, Iowa, is one of the places which will be considered as a site for the proposed air academy.

Gillette's aides said a survey of Davenport's site will be made "in the near future" by the army engineers' division office at Omaha. Congress is considering proposals that the academy be established. Meanwhile, the defense department is looking into hundreds of proposed sites.

Asks Delay In 'Phone Walkout

President Sent Telegram to Bell Company And Its Union Workers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—(AP)—President Truman today asked for a 60-day truce in the nation-wide telephone strike scheduled for Friday.

The president made his request in a telegram to Bell System companies and all unions of the CIO communications workers involved in the threatened walkout of 100,000 workers.

He asked that the parties, during the 60-day delay, "earnestly seek to resolve the current disputes through collective bargaining."

Mr. Truman said Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching has told him the Friday headline affords too little time "to give reasonable promise of settlement."

"I need hardly to describe or emphasize the great damage to the public interest and welfare which would result if these disputes are not settled by agreement," the president said. He added:

"I feel very strongly that employers engaged in the operation of public utilities and unions representing their workers have a special and extraordinary responsibility to settle their differences by agreement and without resort to economic action which may deprive the public of essential services."

Strike Set For Friday
This obligation means, Mr. Truman went on, that the telephone companies and the unions should "canvass and weigh most thoroughly" all demands and counter-offers and exhaust all possibilities for a peaceful settlement before striking.

This strike is set to start at 6:00 a.m. local time Friday. Originally it had been set for Feb. 8, but was postponed by the union at Ching's request.

Negotiations for a settlement bogged down and Joseph A. Beirne, president of the union, told an audience in Nashville last night that a walkout seems inevitable.

Mr. Truman said that in many of the separate, company-wide negotiations "there has clearly been insufficient time" for full consideration of the positions of both sides on the issues of wages and other matters. This consideration, Mr. Truman said, "cannot be satisfactorily discharged by them in the face of the impending Feb. 24 deadline."

Requesting Work to Continue
"Accordingly, I am requesting the parties to continue work and operations, without any interruption of telephone communications in the nation, under the wages, terms and conditions now in effect, for a period of 60 days from February 24, 1950."

Compliance with this request by the parties will demonstrate a proper regard for the public interest and welfare.

He told both sides he "would earnestly appreciate your advising me of your acceptance."

The telegram went to 25 national and local officers of the union including President Joseph A. Beirne.

Copies went to 19 officers of companies and divisions associated with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Ching made his report last night to the White House on the stalemate in negotiations.

New Hormone Fails to Work

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Medical science's hopes for a successful cure for leukemia were dimmed with the death of Kenneth Robinson, 27, here yesterday.

The war veteran and father of a three-year-old daughter died 11 days after he had been dismissed from the hospital with hopes that a new hormone would provide recovery from the deadly disease.

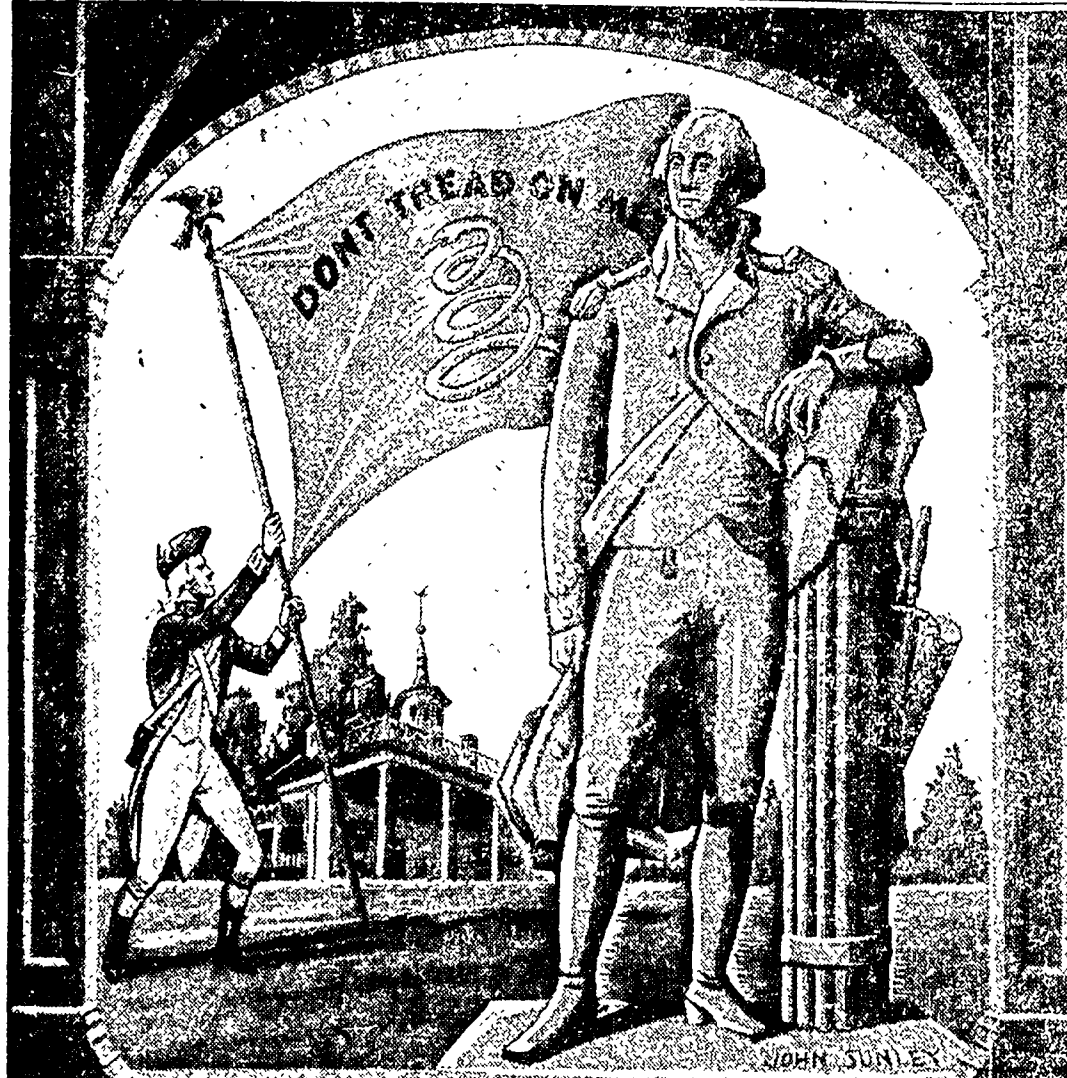

Cortisone or Aeth was administered to Robinson at great expense. He showed rapid improvement and upon leaving the hospital stopped by the chapel to "thank God for his recovery."

His physician said the new medicine is not the answer yet—that too many people have been led to believe that the hormone is a cure for the blood disease.

"I've collaborated with New York doctors on this case and after this experience we are disappointed inasmuch as any cure is concerned," he said.

"All we can hope for is to establish a link in a chain to help these poor people."

Robinson's widow, Fay Jean, also survives.

"The power under the Constitution will always be in the People. It is entrusted for certain defined purposes, and for a certain limited period, to representatives of their own choosing; and whenever it is executed contrary to their interest, or not agreeable to their wishes, their Servants can, and undoubtedly will, be recalled."

Move to Give Truman Power To Seize Mines

Shortage in New York Getting Down To Desperate State

By Sterling F. Green

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—(AP)—A move for rush legislation today gave President Truman power to seize the struck coal mines developed today in Congress.

Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich) of the House labor committee told reporters he understood Rep. Bailey (D-WVa) was preparing a bill along that line. He said the labor committee would give it prompt hearings and added:

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 22.—(AP)—New York's legislature today unanimously voted new emergency powers for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to seize private coal stocks and to clamp price controls on the state's fast-fading supplies.

The GOP-controlled legislature acted after receiving a special message from Dewey, who last night accused President Truman of "mis-handling the coal situation."

Dewey, who was in New York City, planned to return to Albany late this afternoon to sign the measure.

Dewey assured the lawmakers in his message that coal supplies of private home owners would not be seized "except under the most unusual circumstances."

"We will have to do a rush job because of the emergency," Lesinski said that if Bailey did not introduce a seizure bill he believed there were other legislators who would.

"If Bailey doesn't, I will," he told a reporter.

Bailey told a reporter he is considering such a bill, but not today.

He declined to say whether he had conferred with President Truman concerning such legislation.

Would Declare Emergency
It is understood the proposed bill would declare an emergency, authorize the president to take over the mines, and designate an agency to administer them.

The bill would declare a continuation of the "emergency" until such time as the president says (Please Turn To Page 4, Col. 6)

Fire Destroys $400,000 Machine

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Fire virtually destroyed the $400,000 cyclotron in Palmer physical laboratory at Princeton university early today.

Dr. Milton White, professor of physics and director of a Navy research project using the 18,000-volt machine, said only its magnets could be saved.

The machine, built in 1935, was one of the first atom smashing devices constructed in the United States.

Receptacles For Trash

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, it was decided to purchase trash receptacles for the business district of the city and a special committee was appointed to take charge of the project. The committee is composed of Abe Silverman, chairman, A. W. Haller and Harold Seaberg.

The trash receptacles, which are of a dark green color, and are metal, will be financed by advertising on the sides. Metal slides which slip into the sides of the receptacles will have neat, attractive ads painted on them. Inside the receptacles are sacks into which the trash falls when pushed through the opening at the top, and the sacks will be emptied each day.

Although this will take care of discarded papers and other items which might otherwise be thrown on the sidewalks and streets, there is still the problem of keeping the streets clean from having trash swept from a few of the business houses into the street, after the street sweeper has gone by.

One of the new receptacles is now on display on the court house lawn.

Today is Ash Wednesday, Lent Begins

Today is Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, so called from the custom of the western churches of sprinkling ashes that day on the heads of penitents then admitted to penance. In the Roman Catholic churches the ashes are now placed on the heads of all clergy and people present.

Ash Wednesday services were held this morning in the Catholic churches of Sedalia.

Morning services were also held at the Calvary Episcopal church.

The first of the Lenten services which will be held each Wednesday night throughout Lent, will be held tonight at the various other Protestant churches throughout the city with five churches, the Broadway Presbyterian, Congregational Presbyterian, First Christian, Fifth Street Methodist and East Broadway Christian church uniting in a service at the Broadway Presbyterian church.

The observing of the days of fasting coming in the spring of the year became linked with the word "lent" which means "spring" and thus became known as Lent.

In the Latin church, there was originally only 36 days, but in the Fifth century four days were added because of the 40 days of fasting of Christ. During this period there are special services emphasizing the deepening of our religious life, special sacrifices and offerings. The Lenten season ends with Easter Sunday.

Brotherhood Talk Given to Lion Members

'Americans All' Film From March Of Time Shown

Today an appropriate program for Washington's birthday and Brotherhood Week was given before the Sedalia Lions club at Hotel Bothwell, with Dr. Edwin E. Epstein, giving the principal talk and showing a sound-motion picture "Americans All." President A. W. Haller, presided over the meeting which had the largest attendance the club has had in several months.

"What I have to say is from my heart," Dr. Epstein said in beginning his brief introductory talk prior to showing of the motion picture. Continuing he said: "Today is Washington's birthday, as you all know. In answer to a letter congratulating him on his inauguration as our first president, from the Jewish congregation of Newport, Rhode Island, Washington answered: 'America is a land where intolerance should find no home, nor no sanction'."

Kansas City to Vote on Annexation

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 22.—(AP)—It's Kansas City's job to conduct a special referendum election April 4 in the disputed Clay county area the city wants to annex.

That is the date when voters will decide whether to approve of turn down Gov. Forrest Smith's four cent gasoline tax law.

Attorney General J. E. Taylor ruled yesterday the city must conduct the election in an 18-square mile Clay county area. He said that must be done even though the legality of the annexation Jan. 1 is still before the state supreme court for decision.

Residents of the area have attacked annexation procedure as illegal.

Hope Break With Bulgaria Is Effective

In Easing Situation For Americans in Other Red Countries

By The Associated Press

There was speculation today whether the United States would extend its toughened diplomatic policy to other Soviet satellite countries following its open break with Bulgaria.

In Washington State Department officials hoped yesterday's action in severing relations with Bulgaria would serve as an effective warning to other iron curtain countries to toe the diplomatic line—or else.

Those who speculated that closing the door with Bulgaria might turn into a chain reaction, picked Hungary as the next possibility. Within a few hours after the United States announced its break with Bulgaria, the State Department attacked Hungary's handling of the trial which sent American businessman Robert A. Vogler to jail on charges of spying and sabotage.

There was no firm indication, however, that the United States has any contemplation of giving the diplomatic heave-ho to Hungary or any of the other Soviet satellite states.

Told Tragic Tale
The State Department did disclose much of the tragic tale of police terror, torture and death that lay behind the break with Bulgaria. It said last summer the Bulgarian police seized three Bulgarian employees of the U. S. Legation in Sofia and "permitted the torture and killing" of these men. The translator, a native Bulgarian later was seized by police and tortured into making false confessions of sabotage and spying which implicated personal friends and members of the legation, the department charged.

The legation was able to save this man, Michael Shipkov, from the police until recently. Yesterday, the State Department said, word came that he had been seized by Bulgarian authorities in another of "the long chain of tragedies which have overwhelmed decent, freedom loving Bulgarians."

Hoffman Asks Assistance
In Washington Marshall Plan Administrator Paul Hoffman asked for monetary assistance to help western Europe sell at least one billion dollars worth of goods in the American market next year.

He believes greater two-way trade between Europe and America will help make for world prosperity. He argued the small corner of the American market being sought would not affect adversely the American economy.

To Appeal For Husband
NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Robert A. Vogler said today, in a broadcast from Vienna, that she plans a direct appeal to Hungarian Prime Minister Matyas Rakosi for the freedom of her American husband.

Vogler, an assistant vice-president of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp., was convicted in Budapest yesterday of spying and sabotage. He was sentenced to 15 years in prison.

His blond Belgian wife reiterated her belief that Vogler's confession was forced.

Geo. Washington's Birthday is Sales Day in Washington, D.C.

By Arthur Edson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—(AP)—This is G. Washington's birthday, and the nation's capital isn't forgetting it.

I am not referring to Washington's farewell address, which will be read both in the House and the Senate. I am referring to the ordinary citizen and merchant of this community who picks Washington's birthday to go noisily nuts.

For this is sales day here, and like so many other things that happen in Washington, it may be that they're overdoing it.

Look at some of the bargains that were offered:

A television set for 99 cents. . . typewriters (five of them) at 99 cents apiece. . . a silver fox coat for $5. . . phonograph records for a nickel. . . sheetrosters for a penny. . . a console radio, $1.95. . . smaller radios, 83 cents. . . It doesn't pay to have the big head. One merchant put on sale two hats, the 6 3/8ths went for 98 cents, the 7 1/4 brought $1.96.

The ad writers kicked the George Washington legends around unmercifully.

"We use his hatchet to chop prices on his birthday," cried one. "We're throwing away money," yelled another, getting the point over by showing a picture of George tossing a dollar across the river.

"I cannot tell a lie," said a third. "This is our greatest sale!" Just why Washington merchants use this day for a sales binge isn't entirely clear. James Hardy, an old hand in the merchandising business, has made this guess:

Since this a federal holiday, most Washingtonians have the day off. Some years ago a few merchants got the idea that this would be a good time to get at them.

Now they're all at it apparently. Yesterday's Evening Star was 108 pages fat.

Boyle Will Cast His Vote For Allison

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 22.—(AP)—William M. Boyle, Jr., national Democratic chairman, said last night Emory W. Allison of Rolla would get his vote for the party nomination for United States senator.

President Truman previously expressed a preference for Allison.

"Certainly," Boyle said on a visit to his home town, "the President is convinced that Senator Allison is the best material for the next United States Senator from Missouri."

Boyle will address Kansas Democrats today in Topeka.

Talk on Boys Guidance to Optimist Club

Jim Whitsett Gave It at Dinner On Tuesday Night

The Sedalia Optimists club held a dinner meeting in the ambassador room of the Bothwell hotel Tuesday night with Optimist president, Frank Mehl presiding.

After the dinner and the introduction of guests, the principal speaker was Jim Whitsett, chairman of the Kansas City Optimist club. Mr. Whitsett gave a short but very interesting talk on the importance of guiding the thinking of the boys Optimists are working with. It is necessary, said the speaker that self reliance be taught, and that the boys understand that they will soon be going out into a competitive world, and that they will not be cared for from the cradle to the grave.

The thinking that the government can and will do everything for the individual, and that the individual has to do nothing in return, destroys self reliance and individual initiative. This and items for the consideration of his audience was brought to the attention of the Optimists and their guests.

Area Meeting to Sedalia
It was also announced that the "Area Board Meeting" for the 10th District Optimists clubs will be held in Sedalia, on March 21st. Further attention was called to the members and guests that the Opti Mrs. are sponsoring the Pettis Players production, "The Man Who Came to Dinner." Michael Bogutskii, Vice-President of the Pettis Players was introduced to the Members and guests, and he in turn thanked the club for the support they had given the Pettis Players.

Club Ballinger reported that the Club would sponsor a Basketball tournament which will begin on Saturday, and competing teams will consist of member teams of the Optimist Basketball League. Winner of the tournament will receive a trophy and an all star team will be selected from among the players in the tournament. Mr. Ballinger also announced that a Basketball League will be sponsored this summer. Frank Mehl also called for a report from J. W. Reed, Boys Work chairman, who reported on progress made by the club in boy's work in Sedalia.

Out of town officials attended the meeting were Sidney Haner, president of the Marshall club, who brought with him a large delegation from Marshall. Other guests in addition to the speaker were, Harvey Burris, Lt. Governor of 10th District Optimists International, Taylor Harvey, president of the North Kansas City, Optimist Club, Bob Nelson president of the Kansas City, Optimist Club, Dewey Williams of the Kansas City Club and Harry Seeger, formerly of Sedalia and now newly elected member of the Kansas City Optimist Club.

A. L. Bohling Named Road Commissioner

Succeeds U. S. Eye On Twelve Mile Road Commission

Atwell L. Bohling, 1501 South Kentucky avenue, was elected to the Twelve Mile Road District, commission, succeeding U. S. Eye, rural route 2, at an election by a joint meeting of the Pettis County Court and the Sedalia City Council held this morning at the court house. No other name was presented at the meeting, nor was that of Mr. Eye placed before the group.

Mr. Bohling was a former member of the Twelve Mile Road District and was succeeded as a commissioner last year by Ernest Thompson, 403 South Park avenue. Mr. Bohling is a Democrat, as is Mr. Eye.

Besides Thompson, the other member of the commission is Charles Van Dyne of rural route 4.

Refers To Baruch Plan
When he turned to discussion of atomic weapons, the president reiterated his support of the Baruch control plan involving international inspection of atomic plants but declared "The stakes are too large to let us, or any nation, stand on pride of authorship."

"We asked only for a plan that provides an effective, workable system—anything less would be a sham agreement" he said.

Favorable Report on Bill
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—(AP)—A bill authorizing federal purchase of the birthplace of the late George Washington Carver at Diamond, Mo., was reported favorably to the House today.

Judge Kesterson Presides
Judge Kesterson opened the meeting and presided. He announced the purpose of the meeting and after reading the law on the selection of commissioners for districts such as the Twelve Mile District called for nominations for a commissioner.

Councilman Corson then placed in nomination, the name of Mr. Bohling, which was seconded by Councilman Ellsworth. Judge Kesterson asked if there were any other nominations and when none spoke up, asked for a motion or nominations to cease.

Corson then moved the nominations cease and this was seconded by Councilman Smethers. Corson then moved Bohling be elected by acclamation and this was seconded by Councilman Menefee.

Judge Kesterson called for the vote and it carried, there being no opposition.

Elevator Dangerous; Back to Trapeze
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Running an elevator, says Bobbette Yvonne la Velle, is too perilous. So she is going back to the high-flying trapeze work she used to do.

She's returning to the Big Top this summer. In preparation, she yesterday divorced Joseph Carvalho, a singer, charging him with cruelty.

The occupational hazards of piloting an elevator she listed as "getting pushed around, elbowed, stuck by umbrellas and even knocked down."

Control of Weapons Important

Truman Makes What He Calls 'Straight From Shoulder' Foreign Policy Talk

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Feb. 22.—(AP)—President Truman declared today that any system of atomic weapons control without the international inspection—which Russia has rejected—would be a "sham agreement."

"Anything less would increase, not decrease, the dangers of the use of atomic energy for destructive purposes," he said. "We shall continue to examine every avenue, every possibility of reaching real agreement for effective control."

In what he called a "straight from the shoulder" foreign policy talk, Mr. Truman spoke at the unveiling of a statue to the first president at the George Washington National Masonic memorial. Mr. Truman is a 33rd Degree Mason and a former master of the Missouri lodge.

Denounces Threat of Force
As he has often before, the president denounced "communism's threat of force" as a challenge to the free world and said:

"In many parts of the world, men are searching for a better social order. They demand a way of life that will provide greater freedom and more widespread opportunity. x x x

"These ideals are under deadly attack from those who would destroy them. The most aggressive of these enemies today is Communism."

"Communism seeks to induce men to surrender their freedom by false promises of a better life but the great danger of Communism does not lie in its false promises. It lies in the fact that it is an instrument of an armed imperialism which seeks to extend its influence by force."

When he turned to discussion of atomic weapons, the president reiterated his support of the Baruch control plan involving international inspection of atomic plants but declared "The stakes are too large to let us, or any nation, stand on pride of authorship."

"We asked only for a plan that provides an effective, workable system—anything less would be a sham agreement" he said.

Mackenzie's Column

By Dewitt Mackenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

With the conflict of the isms in Europe largely settled down to a holding operation, the weight of strife is shifting to the Far Eastern theater of our two-front war.

In the long run the outcome of the fight between Communism and Democracy may depend largely on what happens in that vast Asiatic area which houses something more than half the population of the world.

The big question of the moment is what aid the nations of southeast Asia are likely to get from the west to enable them to stand up against the great Communist offensive which already has overrun China militarily. When we talk of western aid we of course have Uncle Sam in mind. Most of the load is on his shoulders.

Recommendations for American aid, made by the recent conference of U. S. diplomats in Bangkok, are still under consideration in Washington. The Bangkok decisions provided that the U. S. A. give arms and economic aid to southeast Asia nations if their people show a will to fight the Red threat to their independence.

However, that referred to material aid. No American troops would be sent.

In short, the Bangkok conference would bolster southeast Asia somewhat after the fashion of the successful Marshall plan in Europe. The state department already has funds and military supplies upon which it could draw to this purpose.

The conference came to the conclusion that the Chinese Communists weren't likely to invade hotly disputed Indochina but instead would supply the Red rebels in Indochina with military equipment. The Communist leader, Ho Chi-Minh, is reported to have plenty of men and so needs no soldiers from China.

One of the most important points to come out of the Bangkok conference is the decision that the position of the South Korean republic is serious. Northern Korea is under Russian domination and has been trying to engineer a Communist revolution in southern Korea.

Should southern Korea go Communist it would create a grave threat to Japan, which is America's chief base in the Orient. In this connection it should not be forgotten that Russia's control of Korea was one of the chief causes of the Russo-Japanese war of 1904-5. Why? Because Nippon regarded the Korean peninsula as "a dagger pointed at her heart."

In short, Korea is of great strategic importance.

The thirty year treaty signed recently between Red China and Russia would seem to give Communism a powerful persuader to hold over the small nations of southeast Asia. These little countries are fearful that they will be swallowed by the Chinese dragon.

Among those small states which are worried and with good reason, are Tibet, the tiny neighboring kingdom of Nepal, Burma, Indochina and southern Korea. As in the case of Indochina, their danger doesn't necessarily rest in Communist military invasion, but in Red revolutions within their own borders, backed by Communist aid from China and Russia.

So the western democracies have a tough hurdle to jump in the Chinese Communist military success, coupled with that thirty year treaty which ostensibly grants sweeping concessions to the Chinese. Many observers are wondering whether western aid is coming too late to save the day.

Hal Boyle COLUMN

NEW YORK, Feb. 22—(AP)—If "the Father of His Country" returned to America today on his 218th birthday, how would he find he stood in the hearts of his countrymen?

George Washington would be pleased to learn that to many he is still first in American hearts despite the tarnish of the years.

But the big, rawboned planter-general-president might get a wry chuckle or two out of the tricks time has played with his reputation since the days when the nation's motto was, "Let George Do It."

To get a cross-section of present-day opinion, polled at a gallop, I asked a number of people of different occupations and ages:

1. What does George Washington mean to you?

2. What one word sums him up best?

3. How do you rank him among the great men of American history?

And here are typical answers:

An Elderly Librarian: "George Washington is in a class by himself. He has to be first in our hearts because he founded our nation and taught us loyalty to the United States. He liked his rum and he liked the ladies, but he was a splendid leader. In one word — incomparable."

A Young Girl Clerk: "He must have been a great man, and it certainly would be an honor to meet him. But really I don't have an opinion about him. All I know is it's a holiday — and I'm off."

A Middle-aged Telegrapher: "Washington was a great man in his time, but I don't think he could cope with the situation today. I have no feeling of security for my children's lives — and that gives me concern. I don't care about myself — I'm on the way down. Washington, in a word: Well, not a creator — a builder. I'd put only Lincoln and Franklin D. Roosevelt above him."

A young stenographer: "He had the initiative to get men to fight who didn't want to. Above all he was courageous. I don't have a very clear picture of him, but — as far as I know — I admire him more than Lincoln."

An Accountant: "To me he is a symbol of what every American should be — not only as a patriot, but as a humanitarian, family man and one who could stand up for what he thought was right. In one word? American. He started something that has survived — at least until now."

A Corporation Treasurer: "Too many people forget that Washington could have benefited just as much, probably more, as a colonial under the British government. It wasn't necessary for him to do what he did. He was an idealist. But I wouldn't class-

Intra-mural Plays at Smith-Cotton

The annual Smith-Cotton high school Intra-Mural Plays will be held Thursday and Friday, March 9 and 10. The proceeds from ticket sales will go to the fund to buy equipment for the new school cafeteria which is to be constructed. The fund has grown large in the last several years and the senior student council which sponsors the event, hope this will be one of the biggest plays in the school's history, so the fund will be large enough to purchase, as a gift to the school, most of the cafeteria equipment.

The ticket sale will get under way this Friday and run through March 9. Each student selling ten or more tickets will receive a free ticket and the class selling the largest number of tickets on a percentage basis will receive their choice of position on the program. The high school student selling the largest number of tickets in excess of 100 will receive five dollars; the runner up will receive three dollars.

Awards to Best Actors
The plays are a competitive affair between the classes. The junior class won the plaque last year. A loving cup will be given to the best individual actor or actress. The loving cup is an annual award and is one of the most desired honors in the school.

The class sponsors are producing the plays in the various classes and senior students are serving in the capacity of stage managers and directors. The cast have all been chosen for this year's plays and they are rehearsing to give some of the best performances in the play's history. The casts, directors, stage managers and sponsors of each class are:

Freshmen: Director, Bill Matthews; stage manager, Carolyn Cooper. The cast is: David Lingie, James Cable, Nancy Cook, Delores Gorsett and Betty Snyder. The Freshman sponsor is Ira Cruzan. Their play is entitled "Wilbur Takes His Medicine."

Hermit Thrush Comes To the Dillon Home

Mrs. Earl F. Dillon, of Smithton, called the Democrat-Capital to tell of the hermit thrush, or solitary thrush, a bird which comes to her yard each spring alone and later in the summer is joined by its mate.

The hermit thrush is a famous songster, reverses the wood thrush pattern and its white breast is less spotted. Its tail, which it slowly raises and lowers, is redder than its back.

The woodland thrush has a chestnut brown back and a redder head.

There are many species of the thrush family, among them being the robin.

All Male Jury In the 'Mercy Killing' Trial

Average Age of Men is 54; Seven Are Catholics

MANCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 22.—(P)—An all-male jury was completed today for the "mercy killing" trial of Dr. Hermann Nelson Sander on charges that, to cut short her suffering, he murdered a woman patient doomed by cancer.

Well weighted with maturity, the jury reflects the complexion of this industrial center—both in their jobs and religion.

The average age of the 12 who will hear the case is 54. At least seven are Roman Catholics.

A 13th juror was named as an alternate to serve in case one of the others is forced to retire from the trial.

While the religious issue was not raised in the selection of the jury, the stand of some sects against so-called "mercy killings" hung over the trial.

Catholic church doctrine particularly opposes mercy death.

Louis Cutter, 38-year-old mill worker from Hillsboro, was named foreman of the jury by Judge Harold E. Wescott.

Could be Neutral Cutter, a widower and youngest member of the jury, is a Methodist.

Attorney general William L. Phinney used a challenge to excuse Mrs. Elizabeth M. Pierce of Wilton, a middle-aged black-haired mother of three children was being examined for possible selection as an alternate juror.

Mrs. Pierce said under questioning "I could be as neutral as anyone possibly could be in this case."

But the prosecution objected to her.

Court adjourned for the noon recess at this point. It will reconvene at 1 p. m. (CST).

Phinney told newsmen he intended to make a few brief remarks to the jurors and then take them to view the hospital room where Mrs. Abbie Borroto, 59, died after being given air injections.

Heated Discussion Dr. Sander's attorney said the defendant would accompany the jury.

A heated discussion of possible jury tampering delayed the start of the morning session.

Chief defense counsel Louis E. Wyman won a clear bill from the court after he voiced a vigorous protest against insinuations he said appeared in some newspapers quoting the prosecutor, attorney general William L. Phinney.

Judge Harold E. Wescott replied: "To date I have found nothing wrong with any one of the jurors."

Then he ordered the selection of jurors to resume and within a few minutes the 11th juror was seated—Arthur F. Auger, 67-year-old shoe factory foreman. He is married. There was no indication of his religion in the questioning.

The first unmarried man chosen was named to the 12th place on the jury. He is Leo Harkeen, 42, a Manchester shoe-worker and veteran of World War II with the Seventh Armored division. Harkeen said he is a member of the American Legion and the Syrian-American association.

Then the 12 jurors who will sit on the case were sworn in.

An alternate, who will serve only if one of the others is forced to retire from the case, remained to be chosen.

Mr. Bowmer, a World War II veteran and a barber, was a resident of Boonville, until four months ago, when he left for the state of Arizona. He was the brother of Jim Bowmer, a former Sedalian, who is also a barber, and while living in Sedalia, was employed at the Overfelt Barber Shop.

Other survivors include brothers and sisters, and another cousin of Sedalia, Mr. Elma Shirley of Forty-second street and Kentucky avenue.

Giving Away Inheritance

BELOIT, Wis., Feb. 22.—(P)—A Beloit college professor says he's going to give away his inheritance of a life income from one-third of a $2,000,000 trust fund.

Prof. Marriott C. Morris, Jr., who says he'll never take a penny for his own use, added he'll probably give the money to the cause of international peace.

The $2,000,000 trust fund for Morris and his brother and sister was provided in an order in Philadelphia orphan's court Monday distributing the estate of their father, who died in 1948.

The 49-year-old Beloit associate professor of modern languages said he appreciated "my father's desire, but I feel that I have not earned the money. I have, I suppose, a responsibility to try to help what shall be done with it, and I hope to do the best that I can in that respect. That's all there is to it."

He said his being a member of Society of Friends (Quakers) "might help to explain my feelings."

Morris, married and the father of a 10-year-old daughter, said he had not discussed the matter with his brother and sister.

Abandoned Autos Clutter up Streets

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 22.—(P)—Two thousand abandoned automobiles are cluttering up Kansas City streets, says Police Chief Henry W. Johnson.

"Many have been abandoned and a large number are in an unworkable condition," he said. "License numbers on some date back two or three years."

Johnson wants something done about the four-wheeled waifs. Home owners and business men report the vehicles parked in front of their establishments, but the police can't do much about it.

The car pound has a capacity of 75. It takes about 60 days to clear the legal red tape to sell an unimpounded car for junk.

Johnson has appealed to the city fathers for a larger parking lot for pickups and an ordinance making it an offense to park a car in one place longer than three days.

It is ended or until operators and union came to an agreement.

"My idea," Lesinski said, "is that the government should receive the profits of operation of industries it has seized."

In the past, the government has not kept profits earned during periods when it had an industry under control because of a labor dispute. The United Mine Workers have been critical of that, contending it was not real seizure.

Cool to Seizing Idea The Truman administration has been cool thus far to the idea of seizing the mines in the present coal crisis. President Truman has said he doesn't have seizure power and does not want it.

Without administration support, no move for seizure legislation is likely to get far in congress.

As one new move, government officials were reported to be considering contempt action directly against John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and his top lieutenants.

Hold Woman, 50, After a Holdup

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 22.—(P)—A 50-year-old woman was held today by police following a $49 hold-up of a drugstore here last night.

Police said it was the first time in many years a woman had been arrested for a hold-up in Kansas City. In the police line-up the woman was identified by Alan J. Kantor as the one who robbed his drugstore.

Kantor said a woman came into the store about six o'clock last night and bought a bottle of wine and then left. He told police the woman returned three hours later and announced she was going to rob the store. She kept a hand in a pocket of her fur coat and Kantor and a clerk, Mrs. Florence Torres, thought she had a revolver.

When the woman demanded, "Give me your money," Kantor handed her $49 in currency. After she left, Kantor called police. They arrested a woman in a nearby tavern. They also found $49 in a truck.

No charges have been filed against the woman, identified as Mrs. Marie Nichols, 50.

Important Events In World News

LONDON, Feb. 22.—(P)—A lot of doorbells were ringing today in a last minute hustle for those extra votes needed in what looks like a neck-and-neck general election in Britain tomorrow.

Party workers were out in force to urge support from those Britons who hadn't made up their minds.

Leaders of the two major political parties in this critical fight for power—the laborites or Prime Minister Attlee and the Conservatives of Winston Churchill—agreed the race would be close but each side expressed confidence of victory.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—(P)—ECA Chief Paul Hoffman today suggested 'unemployment insurance and job training to protect American workers who might be thrown out of their jobs by $1,000,000-a-year imports of European goods.

Hoffman made this proposal to the Senate Foreign Relations committee after Senator Lodge (R-Mass) demanded that European imports be spread fairly to avoid placing the burden on only a few industries.

ECA now is setting up a staff in Paris to help Marshall plan countries find sales for $1,000,000,000 of goods a year in this country.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—(P)—Congressional investigators were told today that Henry Wallace once met with two well-known Communist leaders in an effort to round up votes for Wallace's Progressive party.

The testimony came from Matthew Cyctic, 41-year-old Pittsburgh insurance agent who rose to high office in the Communist party while serving as a government undercover agent.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 22.—(P)—Air Secretary Symington said today the United States cannot afford to "lose the first battle" in an atomic war.

He told a Yale university alumni meeting here that a surprise atomic assault might inflict a "mortal wound from which no nation could completely recover."

Symington urged those who "clamor" for a balanced budget to realize that Russia has built a war machine since 1945 that "overshadows the combined programs of all the Atlantic Pact nations put together."

ASMARA, Eritrea, Feb. 22.—(P)—Bloody rioting flared anew today in this former Italian colony capital where 18 persons were killed and 55 were wounded in Moslem-Christian fighting yesterday.

By late afternoon today casualties were reported to have risen to 30 dead and 130 wounded.

About 10 hand grenades exploded in the native market. Street fighting in the native quarter surged toward the European areas of the capital.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round / Dictator Franco Criticizes Acheson's Loyalty to Alger Hiss

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Secretary Acheson's refusal to "turn his back" on Alger Hiss is now criticized not only by GOP senators but by Dictator Franco's official radio.

The Madrid broadcast is significant. Because like Moscow, the "Voice of the Falange" radio station operates for and by the Spanish government. What it says represents the official view of the dictator.

It may also be significant that the Spanish attack on Acheson and the state department came shortly after Acheson had quit "turning his back on Franco" and had indicated that he was willing to extend him full recognition.

Despite this, the Voice of the Falange blared forth on Feb. 13:

"Well-known Communists have been located in the U. S. state department. This has been stated by a Republican senator (McCarthy of Wisconsin) who added that these men held quite important positions in this ministry. It is not merely a question of Hiss, who has been convicted of perjury and to whom Acheson has promised his continued friendship. We are not surprised by this announcement any more than we were surprised by the news that there was every type of undesirable among the advisers to the late president."

Aaron Burr And Hiss

Acheson's defense of Hiss was a lot of interesting precedents in U. S. history. They include: Andrew Jackson's defense of Aaron Burr; Charles Evans Hughes' defense of Senator Newberry; Taft's early defense of Richard Ballinger—later silenced; and Harry Truman's defense of Boss Tom Pendergast.

The late Franklin Roosevelt undoubtedly would have used a different strategy from Acheson's. He operated on the theory that such high office as secretary of state or president must be kept clear of embarrassing friendships, that a good field commander must remain behind the lines while his troops — and friends — were necessary casualties in battle.

But here are some famous personages and incidents in which they differed with FDR's strategy:

Harry Truman — Continued his loyalty to Kansas City's Boss Tom Pendergast, after the latter served a jail sentence, flew in a government plane to his funeral, and promptly ousted U. S. Attorney Maurice Milligan, who convicted Pendergast, immediately after Truman entered the White House.

Unquestionably Truman's loyalty to Pendergast has hurt him politically, but he has snapped his fingers at public opinion.

NOTE—It may have been the Pendergast incident that led Truman to support Acheson when he informally offered to resign over the Hiss incident three weeks ago. Though the state department issued a carefully worded denial, here is exactly what happened. Acheson dropped in at the White House late in the afternoon shortly after the Hiss statement, and Truman began to tell him, half-jokingly, what a barrage of criticism he had been getting. Acheson remarked that he would be glad to get out if he was causing any embarrassment, to which the president told his secretary of state to stand pat and not to pay any attention to those "yappers."

Champion of Newberry

Charles Evans Hughes — Cool, calm and cautious secretary of state Hughes did pretty much what Acheson did when Michigan's Senator Truman H. Newberry was convicted of violating the corrupt practices act.

Newberry had been elected to the senate in a contest with the late Henry Ford in which Newberry spent a great deal of money and later was convicted. Hughes, then in private practice, defended him, and the case was appealed to the supreme court which set aside the conviction. By this time Hughes had become secretary of state, but nevertheless wrote a letter stating: "The plain fact was that Senator Newberry was wrongly and most unjustly convicted and his conviction was set aside."

The Hughes letter brought just as loud protest from the Democrats as the Acheson defense of Hiss has from Republicans. Loudest to protest was Cordell Hull, later secretary of state himself, but then chairman of the Democratic national committee. Hull proclaimed:

"If Secretary Hughes does not know that the Newberry seat in the senate was bought, he is the only intelligent person in America who does not know that fact."

Jackson's Promotion

Andrew Jackson — When Aaron Burr was being tried for treason in Richmond, Andrew Jackson was one of the few to support him under extremely unpopular circumstances. Albert J. Beveridge describes the Richmond incident as follows:

"A tall, lank, uncouth-looking personage with long locks of hair hanging over his face . . . mounted the steps of a corner grocery and harangued the glowering assemblage that gathered in front of him. His daring and unmistakable air of danger to anyone who disputed him, prevented violent interruption certain to have been visited upon one less bold. He praised Burr as a brave man and a patriot who would have led Americans against the hated Spanish.

"Thus Andrew Jackson of Tennessee braved and cowed the hostile mob that was demanding and impatiently awaiting the condemnation and execution of (Burr)."

NOTE — As a result of this defense, President Madison held up Jackson's military promotion during the War of 1812.

William Howard Taft — On Sept. 13, 1909, President Taft wrote a letter to secretary of the interior Richard Ballinger, completely absolving him in the Alaskan land scandals. In 1911, however, Ballinger resigned following an investigation by Louis Brandies which disclosed that the letter of 1909 actually was written by Ballinger's attorney Oscar Lawler.

The incident led to the historic split between Taft and Teddy Roosevelt. Years later, secretary of the interior Harold Ickes, incidentally a strong Teddy Roosevelt man, discovered records which led him to absolve the deceased Ballinger.

There's More to Elections Than the Material Issues

By Bruce Blossat

We could easily miss the meaning of the coming British election if we try too hard to see it from the average British voter's viewpoint.

Like his cousin in this country, he's a pretty practical fellow. His food and shelter, his pocketbook, his general welfare, these are uppermost in his mind when he casts his ballot.

By contrast things like freedom, private enterprise, socialism, nationalization strike him as more or less remote abstractions. They won't become real issues to him unless they somehow get tangled up with his more immediate wants.

Nothing new or surprising in all this. It's perfectly natural that the ordinary Britisher today is worrying about getting a better house, more gasoline, more food at lower prices, and what not.

By the same token, it was to be expected that the midwestern farmer voting for President here two years ago was thinking about grain and hog prices—not the possible "encroachment of big government."

Yet we can't assume therefore that an election either in America or Britain has no significance beyond these bread and butter issues. An election has to be viewed not simply as a measure of what voters want, but in terms of what the winning party has promised to do and can reasonably be expected to do.

In Britain, for instance, the incumbent Labor Party is pledged to extend socialism further, the Conservatives to reverse that trend. It's likely there'll be action on these promises, whichever party wins.

It won't matter that the voters will not have had socialism and private enterprise much in mind when they voted. What counts is the effect of their votes. By giving power to one or the other party, they will actually promote one political philosophy over another, whether or not that be their intent.

For us in America the prime interest in the impending election is still how that question is to be answered. We already know that the British voter will act according to his individual interests as he sees them. What is important to watch is the impact of his action on general political trends in Britain, in America and in the world.

• What They Say

IRWIN RAUT (703 West Seventh St.)—An

item appeared in the Democrat stating that the school board had selected a new member to fill a vacancy until the next election. The board has a legal right to take such an action. But the fact that the vacancy is not of recent occurrence and that the city election will be held in a few weeks makes one wonder why the board should take such an action at this time. This comes especially to mind when one recalls that by a strange coincidence, the board two years ago filled a vacancy just before the city election. In the natural course of events the new man will probably be nominated by the party to which he belongs, for he seems to be well qualified.

But quite aside from the question of personalities and qualifications there is a matter of principle involved to which attention should be drawn. By agreement between the two political parties the school board is bi-partisan. Each party nominates a person for membership on the board and this nomination is equivalent to election. For the board to choose its own members not only violates the present agreement but tends to make the board a self-perpetuating body. The board, as now constituted, is composed of three members who were selected by the Democratic party, one who was selected by the Republican party and two who were selected by the board. This puts the majority party on the board in the position of selecting the nominees for the minority party.

No one wants to put the schools into politics. But in view of the fact that there is already some complaint that the citizens at large have no voice in the selection of board members, since voting is limited to delegates at the city conventions, it would seem that the school board is laying itself open to severe criticism by attempting to control the selection of its members.

How can we expect the nations of the world to find peace through surrendering partial sovereignty to the United Nations so long as we, in our denominations, pay lip service to co-operation and then go about our problem of church extension in our insular way?

A GOOD ANGER

Yesterday you saw that anger is a driving force—it throws adrenalin into the bloodstream, and you are then ready for fight or flight. If anger is to be constructive, it must be harnessed to great causes. It must be like the explosions in the engine of your automobile—these explosions are under the control of purpose and will drive you to your destination. But if, instead of harnessing the explosions, you lighted all the gasoline in your tank at once, with one great "blowup" you would blow yourself and the car to pieces. That is what happens to the insides of you when you have a "blowup" of uncontrolled, non-constructive anger. It leaves you and your situation torn to pieces.

Jesus was an example of controlled anger. When He was about to heal the man with the withered arm, He saw the hard faces of religious men who opposed the act because it was being done on the Sabbath. He "looked around about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardness of their hearts." Here His anger was not personal pique, a wounded egotism—it was grief at the hardness of men's hearts that could block the healing of a poor unfortunate. His anger drove Him to oppose these men on behalf of the underprivileged. It was therefore a righteous anger.

Anger is righteous if it has in it grief on account of what is happening to others, and not a grudge on account of what is happening to oneself. But one must be careful at this point, for the mind plays tricks on itself; it will dress up its personal resentments in garments of righteous and religious indignation so that they will pass muster before our religious self. Many a man fights "for principle," when he is fighting only for personal pique and pride.

But righteous indignation, even when it is simon-pure righteous, should not be kept overnight: "Be ye angry, and sin not"; "Let not the sun go down upon your wrath." Here is an anger that sins not, and yet it must not be kept overnight lest it corrode the soul into bitterness.

O God, give me clear insight and courage to see myself truly, for I may be cloaking my resentments in the garments of piety, and I know these resentments are deadly in whatever form they gain a footing in my life. I would harbor no dangerous Trojan-horse enemies within me. Help me then to be completely honest with myself. Amen.

The Doctor Says— Bronchiectasis, Lung Disease, Fought With Surgery, Penicillin

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

Bronchiectasis is a lung condition in which the small pockets in the lungs which are normally filled with air when a person breathes are broken down, enlarged and filled with mucus, fluid or semi-solid material. If one could see the areas which are affected, they would look like a bunch of grapes.

The symptoms of bronchiectasis are generally like those of any other irritation in the lungs. Chronic cough, usually with the bringing up of a fairly heavy mucus sputum, sometimes having a foul odor, is common. This, however, is like any other chronic infection involving the breathing apparatus so that it is not enough on which to make a diagnosis.

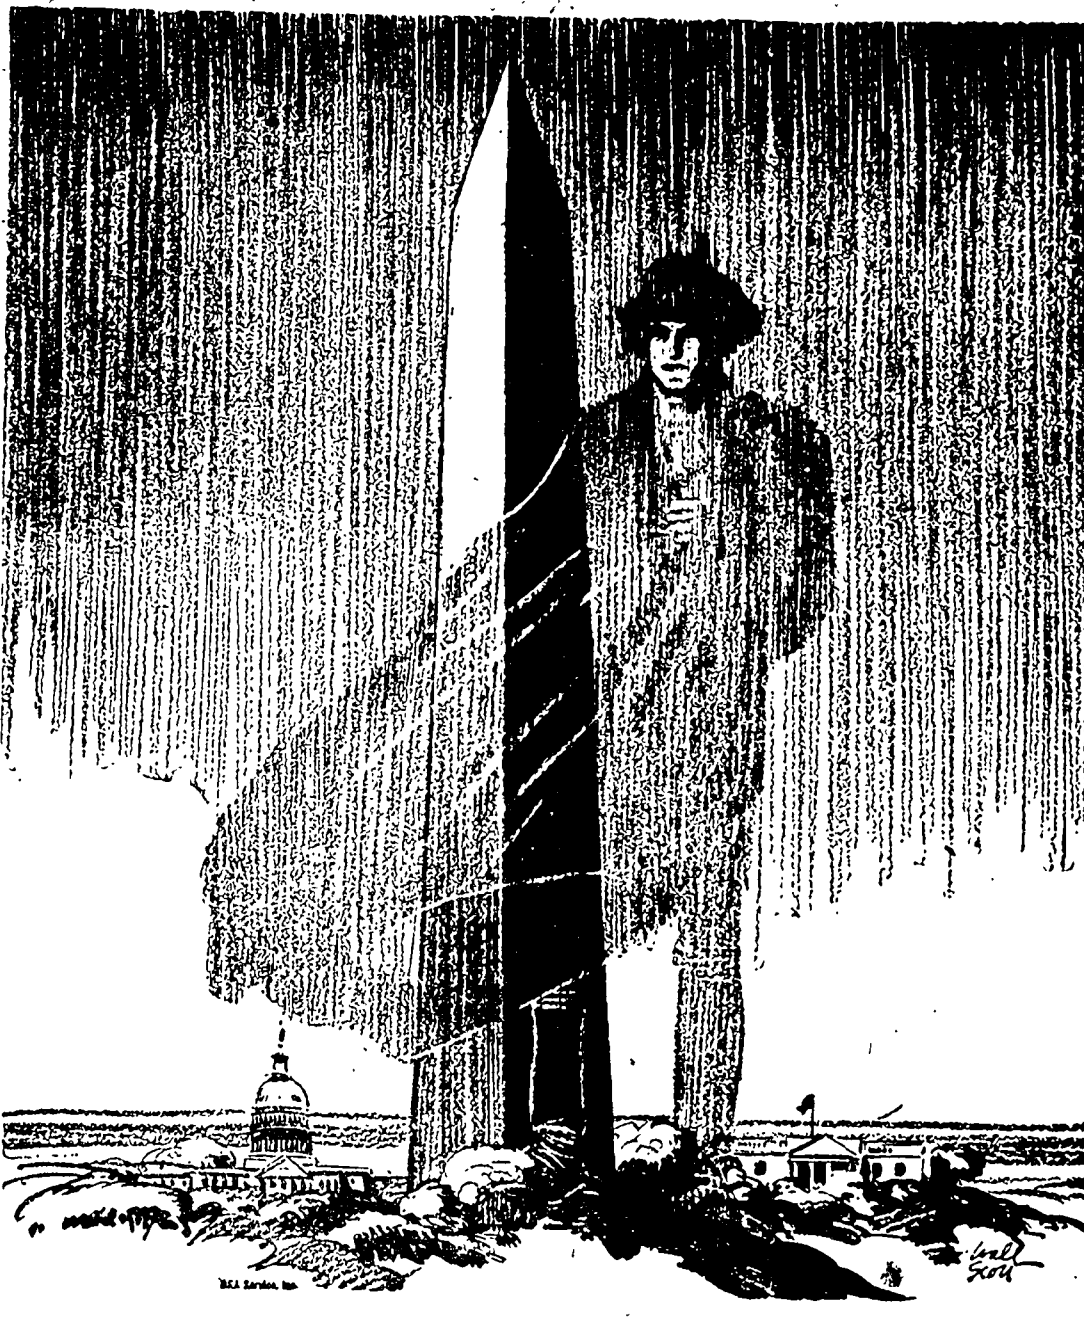

The diagnosis, therefore, depends on special examinations, including taking an X-ray picture. Also the use of a remarkable instrument called a bronchoscope by which the dilated pockets can be seen is helpful.

End of a Chapter

AFTER leaving the Hallecks, Alice chose a quiet hotel on the upper East Side of New York City. She was presently sorry for her choice. The very quietness proved a drawback in forgetting the things she wanted most to forget.

She had planned her program soon after she departed from Grosvenor Point. The thing to do was to get another job immediately; let it absorb her. To forget then as quickly as she could her connection with Brent and Muriel Halleck and a summer, once so promising, that had come to such a dismaying end. The program was sensible. But Alice could not seem to make it work.

A disturbing physical illness—she had seemed to take possession of her. It did not, unfortunately, extend to her mind. Her thoughts churned incessantly, going over and over the same ground again and again.

Alice had, she realized, allowed herself to get so far involved in the affairs of the Hallecks that to forget them was next to impossible. She brooded over the stunning way in which Muriel had revealed a totally unsuspected side of her nature. Her true nature, perhaps. And, remembering, she felt a little numb.

She had liked Muriel, grown fond of her; admired her ability and drive. But all along Muriel had worn a mask.

And Brent? Even yet, despite Muriel's cold announcements, her conscience plagued her. While living under Muriel's roof, while she was paid by Muriel, Alice had stabbed her in the back.

Belatedly and helplessly, Alice knew that she should have left Grosvenor Point after that night on the beach when she had first become—well, acutely aware of Brent Halleck.

Surgery Used The other method of treatment which is satisfactory for many of those with bronchiectasis, even when the condition is advanced, is surgery. One would expect that surgery of the lungs would be extremely delicate and this is true. Nevertheless, the part of the lung affected with bronchiectasis can be removed by surgery pretty successfully and this has undoubtedly saved a good many lives.

For those who are unfortunate enough to have developed an advanced type of bronchiectasis, surgery is probably the only good hope of restoring health and preventing untimely death.

Prevention, of course, is most important. Bronchiectasis often follows long-continued sinusitis or chronic bronchitis. When diseases of these kinds can be nipped in the bud, bronchiectasis can be forestalled.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

"I don't understand." "You will, Alice. Listen! I knew exactly what you meant that last day when you said Brent had been cruel. Well"—Muriel drew a breath—"you were wrong. What ever else Brent may be, he was never that."

"Y-you mean . . ." Alice checked herself, conscious of having almost shouted.

"I'm afraid I do." Muriel's eyes went to her shoes. "It was I who whipped Rick a little, one night. And if I hadn't been a coward when you found the—that thing in my closet, I would have admitted it, then, and I wouldn't be here now. But I was cowardly enough, and mean enough, to put you under a misapprehension. Purposely, too."

Alice caught her hand. "Muriel! You don't need to say another word."

"Yes, I do. I came to get this off my chest and I'll do it right." "Sit down," Alice said, pushing forward the single chair in the room. Muriel walked past it and sat on the bed. Alice sat down beside her.

"I was terribly edgy that night, Alice," Muriel began. "A combination of things. Brent and I, mostly. Worrying about my work. And—oh, heaven knows what all. And I couldn't sleep with that confounded storm outside. But Brent sleeps like a log and he didn't hear Rick when he woke up crying. The child was petrified with fear of the lightning. That's what makes what I did so much worse."

"Oh, please!" Alice said. "I understand. You needn't go on."

Resources More Vital Than Latin

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 22—(AP)—The National Association of Secondary School Principals was told Tuesday conservation of natural resources is going to be more important than Latin and Algebra if the race is to survive.

Willard E. Goslin, superintendent of Schools of Pasadena, Calif., said about two Americans will be where one now is in the 2025 and if something isn't done they are going to have a hard time eating. He estimated a 275,000,000 population by 2025.

Goslin advocated a school of the future in which conservation, democracy, and peace would be more important than Latin and algebra. Skills and knowledge will be mandatory for survival in 2025, Goslin predicted, when the cream of natural resources probably will be exhausted.

Food, apparel, homes "and what is left of the schools" will depend on wits, he said.

Goslin followed J. Paul Leonard, president of the California State College at San Francisco, who has taken colleges to task for limiting high school educational needs by demanding eight to ten units of traditional subjects.

College entrance subjects have attained a social prestige which makes basic courses of college and noncollege the major emphasis of high school, where only 20 per cent of the graduates are headed for college, he said.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How to Get That Homework Done

Miss Gilbert, our grammar school principal, spoke the other night at the regular Parent-Teachers' meeting, on getting children to do their homework when they want to listen to the radio.

"We mustn't give them a flat 'no,'" Miss Gilbert said. "If we adults really believe in tolerance and moderation, we should instill these qualities in our children. Listening to the radio is fine—in moderation—as long as homework gets done, too."

From where I sit, the lady was dead-right. This radio vs. homework problem is a wonderful way to see to it that our youngsters acquire the sensible moderate habits they'll need later on.

I've never believed in hard and fast rules—except where absolutely necessary. Let the other fellow do as he likes, as long as he's temperate and tolerant. Guess that's why I've never felt we should quarrel with the fellow who is partial to a glass of beer—the "Beverage of Moderation."

Mat Action In Sedalia Tonight

1950 Season Opens
With Six Top
Wrestlers on Card

WRESTLING SCHEDULE
Main Event	"Wild Bill" Longson vs. Mike Sharp
Salt Lake City, U. Hamilton, Ont.	Two falls out of 3—90-minute limit.
Semi-Windup	Lee Henning vs. Vic Holbrook
Buffalo, N. Y.	Hollybrook, Cal.
Two falls out of 3—45-minute limit.
Special Event	Vic Christy vs. Tommy O'Toole
Los Angeles, Cal.	Boston, Mass.
One fall with a 30-minute limit.
Time: 8:30 Wednesday night.
Place: National Guard Armory.
Audience: Pettis County Post 16
American Legion.

The 1950 wrestling season gets underway tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the Sedalia armory with six of the nation's top-flight heavyweights in competition.

Topping off the program will be the featured battle between "Wild Bill" Longson, the No. 1 contender for the world title, and Mike Sharp, the Canadian mat giant. Longson, who has drawn more big houses in St. Louis than any other heavyweight, is striving to retain his undefeated record, established last December.

However, Sharpe, who is well known among the Sedalia fans, has been setting a fast pace throughout the middle west and plenty of "fireworks" can be expected when Sharpe clashes with Longson.

Sedalia Debut
Lee Henning of Buffalo, N. Y., will make his debut here against Vic Holbrook of Van Nuys, Calif. in the semi-final contest. Henning is undefeated in the Kansas City area and his tremendous strength and cunning mat strategy makes him a dangerous foe.

Holbrook, a favorite in this area five years ago, is making his mid-western mat comeback and has been clipping off victories at a fast pace in recent weeks. Rated as the top scientific wrestler along the West coast, Holbrook will be extended to the limit by his rugged New York rival.

Another fierce battle can be expected when Vic Christy, former world champion, meets Tommy O'Toole, the fighting Irishman from Boston. Christy is famous throughout this area as one of the greatest exponents of the flying body scissors.

Cage Action at Hubbard Tonight

The fast stepping U. S. Trade School All-Stars will appear against the Sedalia Stars tonight at 8:00 o'clock on the Hubbard high school court.

This will be the first appearance of Negro semi-pro ball clubs at Hubbard high school all season. Friday night the Jefferson City Clowns will appear against the Sedalia Stars.

Both visiting clubs have an array of college ball players and should present plenty of action to Sedalia fans. The Sedalia Stars are composed of several members of past Hubbard championship teams and they should provide enough opposition to keep the games interesting.

Low of 69 Shot in Two-Ball Golf Meet

ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 22—(AP)—Match play eliminations started today in the International Mixed Two-Ball Golf tournament that provided a couple of surprises in yesterday's qualifying round.

Marilynn Smith of Wichita, Kas., and Herb Minert of Gary, Ind., shot a six-under-par 69 that tied the favored couple for low medal score. Favorites Louise Suggs of Lithia Springs, Ga., and Toney Penna of Cincinnati narrowly missed setting a new tournament record.

It was Miss Suggs' turn at the ball and her 15-foot putt on the 18th green rimmed the cup but wouldn't fall. Penna had to tap it in for the 65th stroke.

Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore and Bill Golbeck of Mt. Kisco, N. Y., were next with 68. Two teams tied at 69 were Ann Sparrow of Tampa and Bill Jelisse of Denver and Alice Bauer of Midland, Tex., and Al Bessolink of Detroit.

Marlene Bauer, woman athlete of 1949, and her partner, home professional Denny Champagne, had 71.

Golf Tourney Begins For Baseball Players

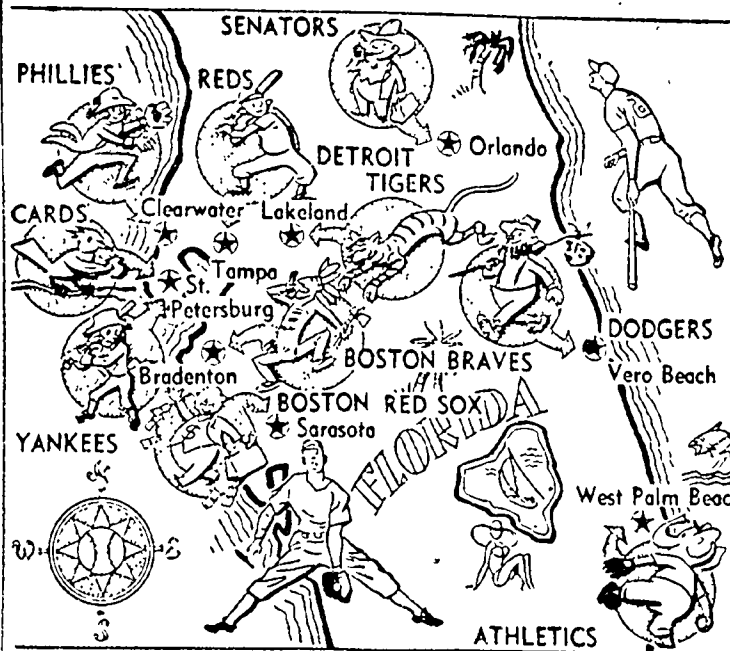

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 22—(AP)—Qualifying play begins today in the eleventh annual baseball players golf championship and a record field of 37 active and former players is on hand.

Defending champion Pete Harris of Miami, formerly with the Atlanta Crackers, will not be required to qualify in the 18 hole preliminary round.

A driving contest was set for the afternoon. Lou Kretlow of the Detroit Tigers, winner last year with a 275-yard belt, will defend honors in that division.

In warmup rounds yesterday, Carl Hubbell, director of the New York Giants farm system and Lou Klein of the St. Louis Cardinals, carded 76s over the par 71 layout. Jack Russell, former Washington Senators pitcher had a 77 and Heinie Manush, former Washington and Detroit outfielder, carded an 80.

Holy Cross Chalks up 26th Win

Crusaders Only
Major Team
Still Unbeaten

NEW YORK, Feb. 22—(AP)—The pressure gets stronger and stronger, but Holy Cross keeps on winning.

The nation's only unbeaten major college basketball team won its 26th straight game last night by smacking Boston College 71-63.

It was the Crusaders' 23rd in a row this season; plus a carry-over of three from last year.

H. C. goes after No. 27 on Saturday night against Brown in Providence, R. I. The last time a college team won 27 in a row occurred six years ago when Army was unbeaten on 15-game season and then won 12 straight the next year before losing to Pennsylvania.

Cousy Sets Record
Boston College, upset winner over Villanova last Saturday, took an early 10-4 edge against Holy Cross subs, but once the regulars took the floor the Crusaders forged into the lead and stayed there. Bob Cousy, Holy Cross star, set a Boston arena record by sinking 14 consecutive free throws, 11 in the second half. In addition he tallied four field goals for a total of 22 points.

The game as the second of a doubleheader. In the opener Columbia, sparked by John Azary's 11-point spree late in the second half, whipped Harvard, 62-52, in an Easter "Ivy" league game. St. Johns of Brooklyn and La Salle, ranked sixth and 12th in this week's Associated Press poll, compared to Holy Cross' second, stayed in the running for a post-season tourney bid.

LaSalle took Manhattan, 65-60 on Frank Comerford's three field goals in the closing minutes and St. Johns wiped out an early 21-7 deficit to nick NYU, 66-60. The games were played as part of a twin bill at Madison Square Garden.

Carolians Meet
North Carolina State, ranked ninth, walloped North Carolina, 70-44, to win its fourth straight regular season Southern conference championship. To make it official, however, N. C. State must win the conference post-season tournament.

Arkansas took a firmer grip on first place in the unpredictable Southwest conference race by swamping Rice, 61-38. In other conference games Texas A&M nipped Texas Christian, 60-58, in overtime and Baylor came from behind in the closing minutes to nip Texas, 43-41.

The Oklahoma Aggies handed Wichita its 13th consecutive defeat, 49-40, in the Missouri Valley conference while San Francisco avenged an early season defeat by nipping San Jose State 54-44. The victory kept alive San Francisco's hopes of getting a post-season tourney bid.

Easter and Rosen Could Give Indians Wallop Needed Behind Best Pitching

CLEVELAND, Feb. 21—(NEA)—Luke Easter and Al Rosen are this year expected to give the Indians the punch they lacked behind the best pitching in baseball last season.

There were fabulous tales of Luscious Luke Easter's hitting in the Pacific Coast league last season "before a fractured kneecap forced him to Cleveland for surgery in mid-June.

The Cleveland club tried him in the outfield last fall, but Buckky Harris, who managed him in San Diego, says the six-foot, four-and-a-half inch, 240-pound Negro belongs at first base.

Harris predicts that he'll hit .325 in the American league. manufacture 25 home runs and drive in 100 runs.

A handsome lad, Rosen, who starts spring training in Tucson on his 25th birthday, March 1, has been an outstanding minor league hitter since coming out of the navy in 1946. Between stops in Cleveland, he drove in 50 runs, batting .321 for San Diego in '49.

He is to get another thorough trial at third base, where last trip Kenny Keltner showed almost unerring accuracy. He is a power hitter. Wilson is a fancy-fielding second sacker.

Minors hit 21 home runs, batting .292 in the Coast league, and is bidding for an outfield berth. He is the fastest man on the squad.

But the lads Manager Boudreau is banking on are Luke Easter, Al Rosen and Hal Saltzman.

Key Man of Club Upsets Branch Rickey

Robinson's Extra
Avoiridupois is
Cause of Worry

By Joe Reichler
BROOKLYN, Feb. 22—(AP)—Twelve pounds are causing owner Branch Rickey more concern than the five reluctant Brooklyn Dodgers who have yet to sign their 1950 contracts.

These 12 pounds may prove to be more stubborn than the wills of Pitchers Rex Barney, Jack Banta, Clarence Podbielan, outfielder Gene Hermanski and infielder Bob Morgan—the five reluctant athletes.

This extra avoiridupois belongs to Jackie Robinson, the key man of the National league champions.

The circuit's most valuable performer as well as batting champion, currently making pictures in Hollywood, reportedly is totting around 208 pounds of muscle, bone and flesh. His normal playing weight is 196 pounds.

Interrupted Training
That and the fact that Robinson probably won't report to the Dodgers' spring training camp until March 4 or 5 is worrying the Dodger president. Work on a film may delay Robinson's training.

"I'm worried sick about it," Rickey admitted during a press conference. "Robinson's condition is easily the most apprehensive thing on the club. He's had trouble with his weight before and I know how difficult it will be for him to pare down to his normal playing weight. I hope he's doing some running in between takes."

Robinson had his greatest season last year, batting .312, leading the league in stolen bases and finishing second to Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner in runs batted in. As a reward for his outstanding season, Jackie was given a $35,000 contract, representing the highest salary ever paid to a Brooklyn player. However, he was 31 last month and admittedly has slowed up a step or two.

34 Satisfied Players
Thirty-four players have agreed to terms including pitchers Elvin (Preacher) Roe and Clem Labine, whose signed contracts arrived at the Dodgers' office today. Outfielder Carl Furillo and catcher Bruce Edwards entered the fold yesterday. Furillo got a substantial while Edwards took a cut.

Roe, who will be 32 years old next Sunday, enjoyed his finest season in 1949 winning 15 and losing six. He won the only game the Dodgers captured in the world series, outpitching the New York Yankees' Vic Raschi 1-0. A broken finger he received in that game is now fully healed, the slender native of Ash Flat, Ark., reported.

Labine, a 23-year-old rookie from St. Paul, is counted upon to help in a relief role. The right-hander appeared in 64 games last season, coming through with a 12-6 won and lost record.

Jacksonville, Fla.—Danny Rugerzo, 165, New York, outpunter Art Tatta, 162, New Haven, Conn., and 10 (top regular bout on Joe Louis—Sid Peaks exhibition card).

S-C Tigers Are Still in Regional Race

Team Beat Fulton
61-21; Advanced
To Semi-Finals

The high riding Smith-Cotton Tigers bowled over the hapless Fulton Hornets. Tuesday night, 61 to 21 to advance to the semi-finals of the regionals at Boonville. The Tigers were in complete charge of the game from start to finish, and the Fulton aggregation never at any time caused the Tigers any trouble. Sedalia's reserves succeeded in out-scoring the Fulton boys.

In the second game of the evening, the highly rated Boonville Pirates just did cck past the Kemper Yellowjackets 40 to 41. The Boonville team was seeded second in the tourney and were rated heavy favorites over Kemper. Kemper was leading the game, prior to 2½ minutes before the game came to a close, Boonville will meet the winner of the Marshall-Saint Peters contest in the lower bracket semi-finals, Thursday night.

High Point Honors
Bill Holst, the towering Sedalia center, again took high point honors for the Tigers by dumping in 18 points. Walker, Tiger guard, took second, with 9 points. Pickering led the Hornets with six points. Schultz and Massarand were second with four points apiece.

Smith-Cotton was red hot on the percentage of shot made by sinking 28 of 55 shots for a sizzling total of 50.9 per cent of their shots good. Fulton cagers hit the basket eight times out of 56 shots for a total of 14.3 per cent.

In the first quarter, the Tigers outscored the Hornets 16 to 5. In the second period, the Smith-Cotton starters were taken out, and the reserves and regulars outscored Fulton 14 to 6. This scoring moved S-C to an intermission lead of 30 to 13.

Final Half
After the half, the reserves went on to outscore the Hornets 6 to 1, before they were taken out mid-way in the period. The Tigers made eight points in that period, compared to two points marked up by Fulton. This gave Sedalia a lead of 38 to 13 going into the final quarter.

In the final period, all ten Tigers saw action, and outscored the Fulton five, 23 to 7 to win 61 to 21. Marvin Lankenau, a starting guard, did not play, due to an injured hand.

The Tigers will play the winner of the Jefferson City-Columbia tilt in the semi-finals at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday. The Jay-Kewpie contest will be played tonight at 7:30 p.m. The finals will be played off at 9:00 p.m. Friday, and the winner will go to the state tournament to be played in Columbia next week.

Two Titles Decided in Basketball

Springfield Team
Owns MIAA Title;
Eagles Win MCAU

By The Associated Press
Two Missouri Conference basketball championships were decided last night and a third was wrapped up barring a sensational upset. Taking them in order of importance:

MIAA—Springfield State, although idle, won the MIAA crown when Maryville State tripped the invading Warrensburg Mules, 54 to 48.

Springfield wound up the season with an 8-2 record, while Warrensburg concluded its long season with 7-3. Maryville, with a 5-3 record, can share the runner-up spot by winning its two remaining games.

MCAU—Central college's Eagles beat Missouri Valley at Marshall, 73-54, and own the MCAU title for all practical purposes. It was the tenth straight win without a setback for Central.

The Eagles can't lose now and they can be tied only if they drop their two remaining games and second place Culver-Stockett wins its final pair. The rivals have one with each other.

Junior college—Moberly Junior college 7-1, although not playing a conference game, won the Missouri public junior college league race when its only near rival was beaten. Southwest Baptist college performed the good turn at Bolivar, tripping St. Joseph 70-57.

Southwest and St. Joe (6-2) tie for second.

Sedalia's 46-22 in
Cage Tournament

The Sacred Heart Gremlins lost their first game in the sub-regional basketball tournament at Windsor Tuesday evening to Knob Noster high school by a score of 46 to 22. The Gremlins' jumped into a 2 to 2 lead after a few minutes of play but the Knob Noster team scored 14 consecutive points while holding the Sedalia team scoreless to lead at half time 18 to 6.

The Gremlins, forced to play four games last week-end, appeared tired and the ball handling was not up to their usual standard. Their shooting was far off of their past performances. Bill Hodges and Jim Fall were high with 5 points each, while Peterman was high for Knob Noster with 13. Coach Palmer Nichols used his reserves the greater part of the last half to give them need of the last half to give them need.

The Gremlins have one more home game to be played with Green Ridge next week and the Sacred Heart gym will close the season on March 5 with a game at Jefferson City with the St. Peters high school.

CHANNEL SWIMMER extraordinary was Gertrude Ederle, left, who became the first woman to make the treacherous 19-mile swim in 1926. Hopeful aspirant of 1950 is 17-year-old Shirley May France of Somerset, Mass., right. "Trudy" Ederle gained fame and fortune when, at age 19, she swam the Channel in a record 14 hours and 31 minutes. The welcome given this daughter of a New York butcher on her return home surpassed, "in numbers noise, spontaneity and variety," any reception ever given by the big city to a distinguished visitor. After the Mid-Twenties, public interest in Channel swimming died out, but was revived with a bang in 1949, when Shirley May France announced she would tackle the Channel. Unsuccessful last year, she will try again this summer.

Near Half Million Red Cross Aid

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 22—(A)—Disaster victims in Missouri got nearly half a million dollars in aid from the American Red Cross last year.

Gov. Forrest Smith reported the figures Tuesday. They were based on a report by Robert Clough, state liaison officer for the Red Cross. It showed tornadoes swept 11 Missouri counties last year and the state suffered three major floods.

May 21 tornadoes, especially the one that hit Cape Girardeau, were the most costly. About $386,000 went to rebuild homes, replace furniture, give medical care and other help to the victims.

Regional blood centers at St. Louis and Springfield collected 19,154 pints of blood for use at 84 hospitals. The Red Cross gave $134,000 worth of "home service" to service men and veterans and $26,000 to meet civilian emergencies.

Volunteers gave 29,000 hours of their time to veterans in Springfield, Jefferson Barracks and Excelsior Springs.

Add 27 More Academy Sites

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22—(A)—Air Force Tuesday added 27 sites to its original list of 193 places suggested as the possible location for the proposed air academy.

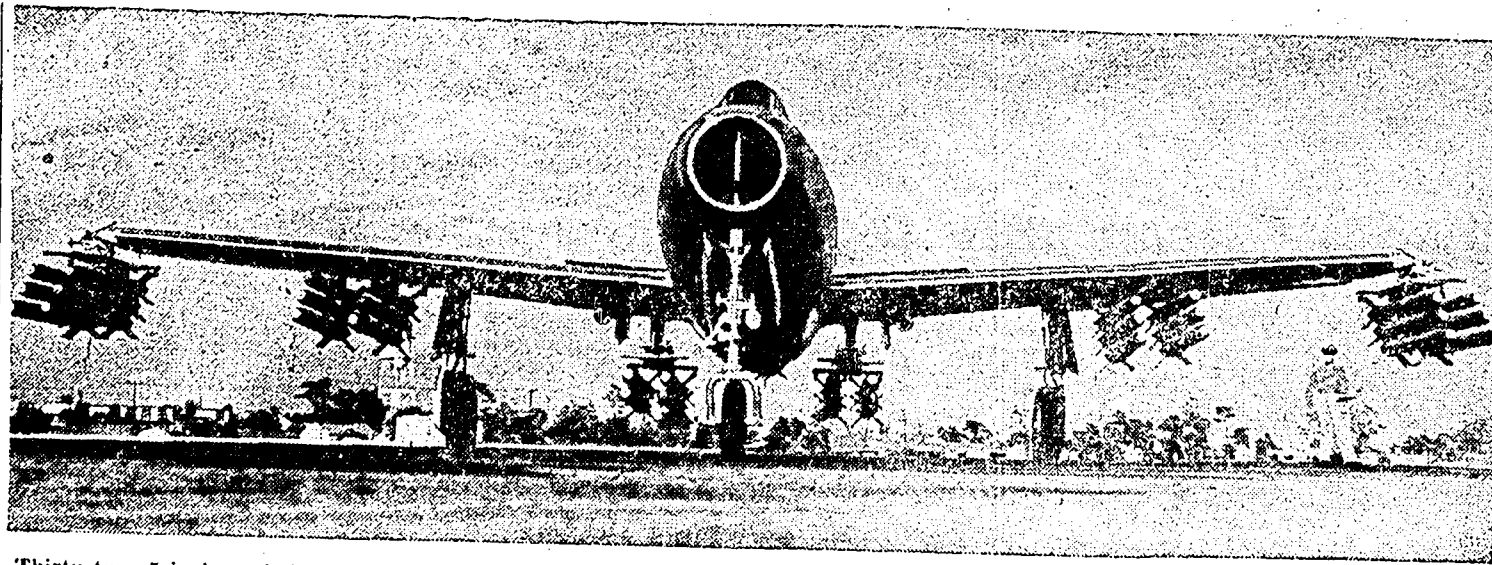

Among the 27 was Enid, Okla. The additional site proposals were received within two weeks after the original deadline of Dec. 31, 1949.

The air force announced that all of the 222 locations will be surveyed by the army engineers or the nearest air force installation's officer. Some already have been surveyed.

Chain Store Managers Plan for Dinner

A meeting of the Sedalia chain store managers was held at the office of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce offices Tuesday. The managers present met and made plans pertaining to a dinner to be given the county 4-H club leaders at the Fifth street Methodist church on March 10th.

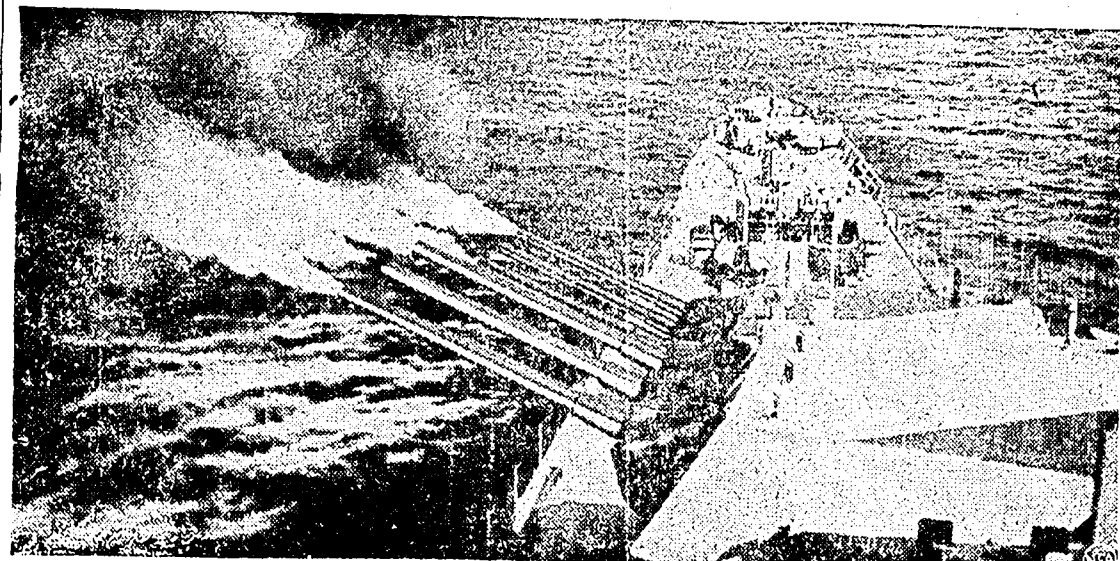

Gano Stearns, manager of the Safeway store, presided over the meeting.

Operation Portrex Will See Planes Fire Like Warships

The largest amphibious maneuvers by U. S. forces since the war—"Operation Portrex," at the tiny Caribbean island of Vieques near Puerto Rico—will provide a testing ground for Air Force jets packed with unprecedented power. These pictures show, as an example, how the new F-84E Thunderjet fighter will be loaded with rockets to give it a knock-out punch that compares to the broadsides of big warships. In fairness to the navy, it should be noted that the planes are not capable of the sustained firepower of warships.

Transient Slashes Assistant Chief

MARSHALL, Mo., Feb. 22—(A)—Milo (Mike) Hutton, assistant fire chief, was slashed on the left arm and shoulder Monday night by a transient who asked a free night's lodging from the city.

Bill French, chief of police, identified the transient as Joe Kilgore, 65, of Macon, Mo. No charges have been filed against him.

French said Kilgore was placed in a cell with other prisoners and started an argument over blankets. Hutton went in to make peace. Kilgore cut Hutton with a straight razor, French said, and doctors needed 16 stitches to close the wound.

Act to Foreclosure On Lustron Corp.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 22—(A)—The government Tuesday filed a $36,000,000 foreclosure action against Lustron Corp., mass producer of steel homes.

The Reconstruction Corp., which financed Lustron's attempt to turn out 150 homes daily on an assembly line basis, told the federal district court that Lustron "cannot be continued without loss and the wasting of its assets." Lustron has lost $20,000,000 since its organization late in 1947, RFC claimed.

RFC's move came as Lustron officials sought approval of reorganization plans. Carl G. Strandlund, Lustron president, has maintained that RFC would get "only a nickel on the dollar" through foreclosure.

Lustron, he said, could be put on a paying basis if the RFC grants another loan—of between $3,500,000 and $5,000,000. He said this money would be used to step up production and finance distribution of the porcelain-enameled-steel houses.

Strandlund also was named a defendant in the RFC action. It asked a $15,487,875 judgment against him. This covers the amount he personally guaranteed on the $37,500,000 RFC advance to Lustron. Lustron met some payments on the loan.

Shot in Theater by An Improvised Gun

MARSHALL, Mo., Feb. 22—(A)—Granville Ferguson, 16, was shot in the hip and slightly wounded Monday night at the North Street theater, Chief of Police Bill French said Tuesday.

French said a .22 caliber bullet was fired from an improvised gun of iron pipe and wood by a 15-year-old Marshall boy. A nail was used for a firing pin and a door hinge, controlled by a rubber band, for a hammer.

The improvised gun was found on the 15-year-old boy shortly after the incident. Similar weapons were found on two other youths.

The case has been referred to juvenile authorities for action.

People of the United States form less than 6 per cent of the world's population, but, in normal times, eat one-fourth of its beef.

Site at Davenport To be Considered

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22—(A)—The air force notified Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) Tuesday that Davenport, Iowa, is one of the places which will be considered as a site for the proposed air academy.

Gillette's aides said a survey of Davenport's site will be made "in the near future" by the army engineers' division office at Omaha. Congress is considering proposals that the academy be established. Meanwhile, the defense department is looking into hundreds of proposed sites.
